DELEGATION BID REBUFFED

State Asks Study of JUHSD Unification

THE STATE BOARD of Education has asked a special North County school unification review committee to study a plan that would unify the area comprised by the Jefferson Union High School District.

The action came after a delegation of North County school officials appeared before the board in Los Angeles last week seeking approval of a plan to combine all the elementary districts within the Jefferson area with the present South San Francisco Unified School District

Noonan argued that without such a combination, the residents of a unified Jefferson district alone would face what he termed a ruinous $5 tax rate.

THE REQUEST by the board for a study of unification of only the high school district within its own boundaries came at a time when the review committee was preparing for its first public hearing February 1 in Westmoor High School

The committee had planned to study two possible plans—the unification of the Jefferson area within itself or the combination of the Jefferson and the South San Francisco districts.

The committee was appointed after the board, for the second time, had turned down a plan to split the Jefferson High School area into two districts.

AT LAST WEEK'S hearing, Ronald Cox, fiscal expert for the State Department of Education, recommended denial of the plan to combine the elementary districts in the Jefferson High School area with South San Francisco.

He said the resultant district would lose nearly $250,000 annually in state aid and the combine would create tax difficulties without appreciably improving the quality of education in the district

The proposal to unify the Jefferson district within itself—its area covers Daly City, Pacifica, Colma and some unincorporated areas on the fringe—had been advance two years ago during deliberations of the San Mateo County Committee on School Reorganization.

However, the plan failed to gain final approval of the committee.

The group then proposed a split of the high school district that would have the area of the Laguna Salada School District in Pacifica as one unified district and the Jefferson, Brisbane and Bayshore Elementary School Districts included in the other.

However, the state board, following a policy of not splitting high school districts except under unusual circumstances, turned down this plan.

ANOTHER ROUND of meetings by the county committee failed to produce agreement on a new plan and ultimately the committee again adopted the split district proposal.

This proposal was rejected last December and the special review committee was then set up.

S.S.F. Council Paves Way For District

2nd Phase Of Cabot Park

By DON MILLER

The South San Francisco City Council Monday night approved in identical 4-1 votes four resolutions paving the way for an assessment district that will serve the second phase of the huge Cabot, Cabot and Forbes Industrial Park.

A public hearing will be held at 8 p.m. February 21 on setting up the district, which would provide for about $3.2 million in grading, curbing and other improvements. The second phase of the park covers 170 acres.

The negative vote on the four resolutions was cast by Councilman Patrick E. Ahern, who before voting "no" on the final resolution commented wryly:

"If I'm wrong, I might as well be consistent."

Ahearn explained later that he believes assessment districts should be formed to provide only basic public improvements —such as streets and curbings.

He noted that the Cabot and

No Promise On Damage, Council Says

Can a city guarantee a homeowner against damages resulting from construction authorized by a use permit?

A clear-cut "no" was the answer Mrs. Yolanda Mahoney received Monday night at a meeting of the South San Francisco City Council after she protested a permit that would allow a gas station to be torn down and rebuilt adjacent to her house at 307 Baden Avenue.

The permit to replace the station had been sought by Shell

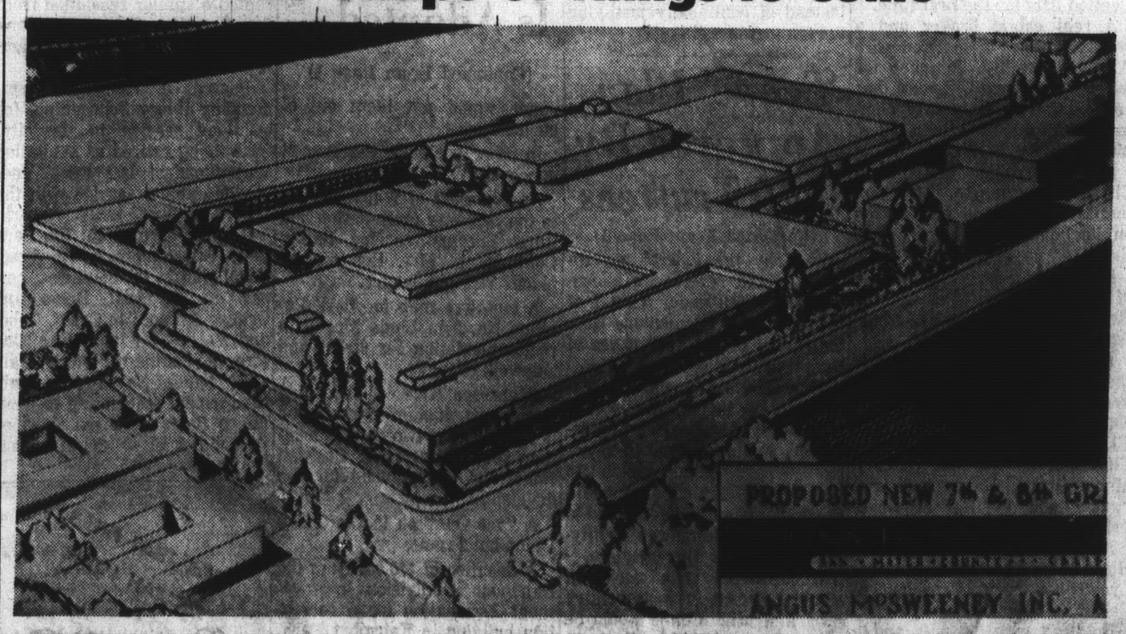
The Shape of Things to Come



THIS IS an architect's plan rendering of how the new John F. Kennedy elementary school will look when construction is completed at the school site adjacent to the St. Fr[illegible] Square Shopping Center in Daly City. Residents of both the Jefferson Elementary and Jefferson High School Districts will be asked Tuesday to vote for bond issues totaling $13.5 million. Proceeds would be used to finance John F. Kennedy School and other new classroom facilities planned by both districts.

Sanitation Unit Adopts Survey Plan

By JOHN HORGAN

The North County Sanitation District has begun to implement recommendations outlined in a comprehensive engineering study received last year.

In essence, the study recommended modifying and enlarging the district's present treatment plant rather than building new facilities. Cost of the modifying would be about $757,000.

According to Robert Bernicchi, engineer-manager for the district, the survey has been "adopted in toto and will be used as a guideline for the future."

The district is now making preliminary field surveys for a new trunk sewer line from Ninety-first Street and Sullivan Avenue in Colma to the treatment plant on Lake Merced Boulevard.

Bernicchi estimated the total cost of this project would run about $300,000. He said that he thought the work would take from 30 to 36 months to complete.

Bernicchi said that the treatment plant, which is 11 years old, will be due for enlargement within two years. The enlargement will be the building's third.

With the present flow of sewage flowing into the district plant estimated at more than four million gallons per day, Bernicchi expects that "when the flow reaches about six mil-

POLLS OPEN 7 A.M.

School Bond Vote Set for Tuesday

(Editorial, Page 8)

Residents of both the Jefferson Elementary and High School Districts will go to the polls Tuesday to decide the fate of bond issues the districts have proposed to provide funds for new classrooms over the next half dozen years.

A two-thirds vote is needed for passage of each bond issue—$10 million for the high school district and $3 million for the elementary district.

The polls will be open at all regular voting stations from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Officials of both districts have emphasized that a "yes" vote will not result in an increase in tax rates but that a "no" vote on the elementary bond issue could result in a tax boost this year.

They also have noted that the bond issues have received the backing of homeowner, labor, civic, fraternal and P-TA organizations, representing hundreds of members, and the Brisbane and Pacifica City Councils.

A spokesman for the citizen's committee promoting a "yes" vote on the bonds this week expressed concern about a report that some senior citizens believe a "no" vote will result in a reduction of their taxes.

He remarked that conversely, failure of the bond issues would probably hit senior citizens in the pocketbook harder than others.

With the proceeds of the bonds, the high school district plans to build two more schools to house almost 3,000 more students than the present enrollment and to purchase sites for another two schools.

Zoning Law Is Adopted In Pacifica

After seven years of changes, amendments and revision, a zoning ordinance for Pacifica was adopted at last week's City Council meeting.

Assemblyman Leo Ryan, a guest at the meeting, congratulated members of the Planning Commission and the council for "taking this significant step forward." The city has been operating under county laws.

Basil Gladieux, 538 Reina Del Mar, asked why property owners were not notified of general rezoning in their areas.

He was informed by City Attorney Conrad Reisch that "there is no legal requirement for us to send a notice to everyone in the city." Reisch added that the ordinance had been posted, notices had appeared in the newspapers, and that lengthy public hearings had been held.

In answer to another question about C1A districts (combined store and apartment) that do not meet space requirements, Councilman Fred Ballew responded that these would be looked upon favorably when they were in older areas.

Builders at a previous meeting had protested the parking restrictions on these lots, claiming that the new zoning ordi-

D.C. Chamber Will Attract New Firms

Bayshore Area In Question

A preliminary move to attract light industry to Daly City was initiated Thursday by the board of directors of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce.

The directors will take a close look at the Cow Palace area and at land now occupied by the San Mateo County Housing Authority and its Midway Village project.

Director David Friedenberg, who suggested that the chamber investigate industry possibilities, said directors might look toward the Cow Palace area.

He said the chamber should ask the housing authority about what plans it has for Midway Village—whether the project will stay as it is, whether new buildings will be erected to replace the present "temporary" structures or whether the authority plans to relocate the project.

Friedenberg prefaced his suggestion with the observation that "I have to be careful how I say this," and explained:

"I am advocating a study only — a looking around Daly City to find possible areas for industry. I am not suggesting now that anybody move. I'm suggesting we ask them (the authority) what plans they have."

Director Bernard Lycett, a Daly City councilman, echoed Friedenberg's comments. "I'd like to also know what the authority's projected plans are."

City Manager Edward Frank remarked that the city is working on developing a general plan and that the Bayshore area and its potential would be studied in connection with the plan.

Director Joseph Rohl, manager of the Daly City operations of the Pacific Gas & Electric Company, said that PG&E owns half of the Midway Village land, which it leases to the housing authority.

Chamber President Edward Morgan then asked Rohl to ask PG&E management what future plans it has for the land. He also asked Lycett to confer with county officials on the authority's plans and he requested Friedenberg to consult directly with Glenn Weman, director of the authority.

The three directors were asked to report on their discus-

'A POSSIBILITY'

JESD to Try To Reduce Tax Rate in 1966

By BERENICE PALMER

Jefferson Elementary School District taxpayers received a "conservative estimate" of what a school tax reduction for 1966 might be during a preliminary budget discussion conducted by the board of trustees Monday night.

District Supt. Frank Greenwood outlined the possibility of a minimum tax cut for 1966 of 10 cents per $100 of assessed valuation. The district's 1965 tax rate was an 18-cent boost over 1964.

Trustee George Perry observed: "We want a program that is educationally sound but fiscally responsible," and he added that he trusted that "the 10-cent reduction was a conservative estimate."

"I am always conservative," Greenwood laughed in reply. He then cautioned that if the January 25 bond election were turned down, the over-all tax could be increased "as much as 20 per cent."

Greenwood also expressed disapproval of a $5.5 million budget with only $150,000 in reserve.

"You only have to be off $10 per child," he said, "and you are wiped out. Rather than play with our tax rate like a yo-yo, it would be better to build a reserve and keep the tax rate at a constant figure. The only change then would be what Sacramento determines is necessary to repay our loans."

Trustee O. Wayne Douglas, in discussing last year's tax rate, stated: "I think we have caused a great disruption in the local community."

"We are taking the blame," said Trustee Joseph Lewkowitz, "for the lateness of the assessed valuation."

"I think we should take a good hard look at the budget this year," Douglas remarked, "to

Seawall Is Proposed For Coast Shore

A city-long seawall for Pacifica and plans to protect other San Mateo County shoreline communities from beach erosion were announced today by Congressman J. Arthur Younger.

Total cost of the anti-erosion work will be in excess of $4 million, Younger estimated.

Younger said that preliminary plans for protecting Pacifica's shores will be formally announced in February. The Army Corps of Engineers has been studying the city's beach erosion problems.

He said that the corps has proposed a rubble mound seawall along the city's entire ocean frontage from the northern city line to Mori's Point.

The seawall, he said, would look like the present Pillar Point Breakwater but would not be closed in at the ends.

Younger said the rubble seawall would cost about $2 million.

Pacifica is now studying whether to buy its beaches from private owners so that federal funds can be obtained to help finance anti-erosion measures.

GRAND JURY REPORTS

Respect for Law on Upswing

SOME IMPROVEMENT in the public attitude toward law enforcement in San Mateo County was reported last week by the 1965 County Grand Jury.

The jury submitted its final report to Superior Judge Louis B. Dematteis and was discharged. A new grand jury was to be impaneled Friday by Superior Judge W. Howard Hartley.

The report notes that the 1964 Grand Jury found a "diminishing respect toward police authority."

"Intelligent police work in the troubled areas and work with juveniles appears to have gained some ground in this respect, and we detect an improvement in public support of police activities," last year's jurors said.

THE REPORT includes these other recommendations:

—That the County Harbor District, among other special districts, be abolished.

—That an assessments appeals board be established to relieve the County Board of Supervisors of the job of tax equalization.

—That immediate financing be arranged for a three-story parking garage to serve the county government center in Redwood City.

—That security officers be hired for County General Hospital in San Mateo to guard against theft and protect hospital personnel.

—That the office of County Superintendent of Schools be made appointive.

THE REPORT is generally commendatory and finds little fault with the operation of county government. What little criticism it contains has to do with the lack of adequate staff or facilities.

"We are pleased with the quality of government in our county and find it most competent and efficient," Foreman Charles R. Christensen wrote in his covering letter with the report.

The jury's Law Enforcement Committee, of which Christensen was chairman,

THEATER REVIEW

'No Exit' Is Pacifica Hit

By BERENICE PALMER

Last Saturday night's Pacifica production of Jean Paul Sartre's "No Exit," by the Spindrift Players represented an interesting first choice for the group when compared to the usual vehicle chosen by small amateur theater units.

The Spindrifters performed to a full house audience of over 100 persons in the community room of the Pacifica Library in Sharp Park in their only performance of the play.

The play dialogue took place in one scene and one act. It concerned three persons who find themselves doomed to spend eternity together in hell —a small, stark underground living room with a locked door.

"Where are the torture instruments; what will be done to us?" cries Cradeau, a French newspaper journalist executed for collaboration with the Nazis.

At the climax of the play, he has learned in despair that hell is not a fixed place in the cosmos, "Hell is just other people"—the judgment of others and ultimately oneself.

Cradeaus' companions are the young sadistic lesbian Inez, and the feminine but cruel and man-hungry Estelle. Inez refuses to give the other two peace. She sees through, but understands, the cowardice of Cradeau, and the vanity of Estelle, and plays one against the other. Barbara Aubuchon gave an outstanding and thoroughly believeable performance as Inez.

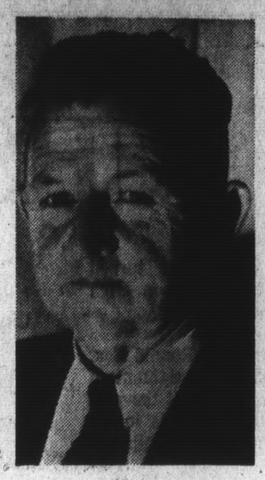
Sydney Clark as Estelle, and Aubrey Lumley, as Cradeau, were also flawless in their characterizations. The acting itself was of professional quality although only two of the actors, Aubrey Lumley and Richard Nick, who played the valet, have had prior drama experience.

This is a rather depressing play. However, it has much to say about evil, not in the black and white concepts of religion, but from the human standpoint —how actions relate to other people, the importance of their relative judgment, and our own guilt, and our own conscience. The authoritarianism of God or the devil is negated, as in all Sartre's works.

Nathanial Marks, the director, is simultaneously rehearsing a Montara group for "No Exit" for a performance in the middle of February. A comparison of the two interpretations might prove interesting.

Although the Spindrift Players were described by their president, Clint Jennings, as primarily a study organization rather than a production group, it is hoped that they will consider several plays a year at least, if this high quality can be maintained.

Preceding the play, Janet Watson sang four folk songs, accompanying herself on the guitar. Mrs. Watson is an accomplished artist. Her voice is professional, and she has a skilled and subdued guitar technique.



BERNARD LYCETT
Seeks Election

Lycett Will Run for D.C. Council Seat

Councilman Bernard J. (Bud) Lycett of Daly City has announced that he will seek election to the seat he was appointed to in February of 1964.

At that time, he was named to fill out the unexpired term of Councilman Bob St. Clair who had moved to Millbrae.

In running for the council, Lycett, 50, will be entering the election lists for the first time.

A real estate broker and a deputy coroner associated with W. C. Lasswell & Company for the past 20 years, Lycett has been active in Daly City community affairs for almost all of his adult life.

He was president of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce in 1963 and has served on its board of directors since then.

In addition, he is a founder of the Serra Club of El Camino Real and served as its president.

He also has been a member of the Daly City Eagles for 25 years and is a member of the Native Sons of the Golden West, El Carmelo Parlor, the Rotary Club and the Westlake Catholic Men's Group. He is a district chairman of the Boy Scouts of America.

A graduate of St. Ignatius High School in San Francisco, Lycett has been a resident of Daly City since 1939.

He lives with his wife and a son, Edward, a Golden Gate College graduating senior, at 100 Fairlawn Avenue. A daughter, Mrs. Susan Schellenberg, lives in San Francisco.

In announcing his intention to run for election, Lycett also announced the appointment of a campaign chairman, Ben Albrecht of 84 Fairway Drive.

Commenting on the candidacy, Albrecht stated:

"Few people in Daly City have a better or more comprehensive understanding of the city's program than Bud Lycett. In his two years on the City Council, he has demonstrated those qualities of leadership and intelligence that merit the support of voters . . ."

see if we can give the local taxpayers a break."

Board President Thomas Noonan noted that the state might pay for some $250,000 a year of the district's capital outlay if the bond issue passes. Uneven school property, which requires constant slope maintenance, causes this high capital outlay, Noonan said.

More study of the budget was requested by Trustee Peter Galliano. "We should define our objectives and translate them into financial terms."

February 1 was set for the board's next budget study after a suggestion by Douglas that a deadline be determined "so that we can look forward to getting the tax reduction this year."

After the meeting, Michael Pennings, president of the Jefferson Classroom Teachers' Association, charged:

"Trustees Noonan and Perry knew what they were doing when they raised the local school tax rate by 18 cents August 2 after an increase in the assessed valuation.

"The reason was to increase the reserve from $100,000 to $314,000. I feel that Noonan and Mr. Perry should start thinking about what the money can do to improve the school program instead of continually justifying the tax increase."

proved by the federal government, would receive an allocation of $64,000 under Title I of the Secondary Elementary Education Act for the first phase of the project ending August 31.

The program would concentrate on low income family children who are educationally deprived, in three schools: Woodrow Wilson, kindergarten to third grade, 140 children qualifying; Jefferson, kindergarten to third grade, 44 children qualifying; and Colma Intermediate.

Woodrow Wilson and Jefferson would be used in a preventive program, while Colma would be primarily involved in a drop-out prevention program, Shepherd said.

If the project can continue to 1967, Shepherd said, it also would include a pre-school program.

Shepherd described "Scope" as working with both the children and their parents.

The approval of "Project Scope," including expansion of library facilities and the hiring of a curriculum consultant, was given by trustees after Shepherd's presentation.

The district's application for federal funds to run the program will now be sent to state school officials in Sacramento for approval. Sacramento is acting as an intermediary between Washington and the local school level.

1st Steps Taken On Cabot Funds

Forbes districts will also be concerned with reclaiming, filling and grading of land.

City Attorney John Noonan said the government code authorizes both counties and cities to establish assessment districts for the reclaiming of both public and private land.

In the case of private land, the owner ultimately is required to bear the cost of the work.

Noonan added that an attempt to revise assessment district provisions was made at the last session of the legislature but was defeated.

In other business, the council received a resolution from the Planning Commission, recommending adoption of an amended plan and other changes in the Stonegate Ridge planned community district.

The development will be constructed along Hillside Boulevard at Chestnut Street and adjacent to Parkway School.

City Manager Eugene Aiello said later a public hearing on the changes may be held at the next meeting of the council, depending on whether advertisements of the hearing can be published in time to meet a legal deadline.

At the last meeting of the council, an assessment district for Stonegate was approved.

The council last night also heard a report from Aiello that the new city library being erected on West Orange Avenue had been completed on the outside and was 75 per cent complete inside.

He stimated that the city would be able to move into the building in June. An emergency operating center is being constructed on the ground floor of the building. Total cost of the project is $750,000.

The council also:

Adopted, after a public hearing, an amendment to the zoning ordinance requiring garage doors for duplex and apartment units. The Planning Commission had required the doors as a matter of policy before. The amendment now makes that policy city law.

Passed a resolution in memory of Anita Robertson, the city's planning officer who died January 3. The council later accepted a similar resolution from the Planning Commission and adjourned its meetings in memory of Mrs. Robertson.

Passed a resolution commending Henry Schweining, for his long service to the city. Schweining retired as sanitation superintendent last week, ending 20½ years' service with the city.

Granted permits to: the Park Lane Apartments for a directional sign at the southwest corner of Memorial Drive and Orange Avenue; to Cabot, Cabot and Forbes for an advertising sign on Southern Pacific Railroad right-of-way near a railroad freight station and to Wells Fargo Bank for seven signs on its building at 400 South Airport Boulevard.

The enlargement will be financed by connection fees paid by building developers. New homes in both Serramonte and Westborough (which is not in the North County Sanitation District but is serviced by it) will boost both the flow of sewage and the payment of fees.

S.S.F. School Board Backs Winton Act

South San Francisco school trustees Monday night agreed to stick with their October policy of employee negotiations.

The policy adopted then requires employes or empolye organizations to "go through channels" in approaching trustees, as outlined by the state's Winton Act.

Trustees agreed that the act, which requires all school boards to establish a negotiating council representing all district employe groups, would be in effect violated if employes were allowed to continue to approach the school board entirely on their own.

They approved a policy requiring teachers and other district workers to make contact with the negotiation council first, and attempt to work through that council.

In response to continuing comments, however, trustees agreed to review their policy.

After discussion with members of the California Teachers' Association, and the American Federation of Teachers, and others, trustees voted 3-2 to remain with the earlier established routine.

They approved, also, the purchase of a school site in the Foxridge subdivision, at the price of $375,000. That price was established in Superior Court in an eminent domain proceeding, Supt. Dr. Paul Nielsen said.

In other business, the directors heard a report from chamber Manager Peter Markovich that the Northgage Transit Company has extended its bus schedule to midnight to serve Mary's Help Hospital.

The company runs buses to the hospital every 20 minutes during the day until 6 p.m. and every half hour until midnight. The service previously had ended at 7 p.m. It is also being provided Sunday nights, Markovich said.

At a previous meeting, the directors had voted to ask the company if it would provide the extended service.

In other action, the chamber:

Heard a report from membership chairman Donald Monson that the chamber's current drive for new members had resulted in 14 businessmen signing up to date.

Decided to have chamber members listed by organization rather than by individual names.

Praised Vincent Murphy and his brochure committee for producing a brochure advertising Daly City's merits. Morgan termed the brochure "the best yet." Murphy, in turn, lauded Ron Bates for his part in puting the brochure together.

Markovich reported that his office had received a "tremendous" demand for the brochure.

Asked a committee headed by director Jack Kendree to report on establishing annual awards to reward citizens of the community for outstanding achievements.

stated, "It is obvious that there is a good spirit of cooperation between the sheriff's office and the various city police departments."

The committee praised the work of the County Law Enforcement Association, which represents all police agencies in the county.

"There appears no evidence of organized crime or vice in San Mateo County," the report states, "with the possible exception of some bookmaking on horse racing."

The jury undertook an investigation of bookmaking during the year, but did not complete its work. District Attorney Keith C. Sorenson said the 1966 jury will continue the probe.

The committee recommended that more misdemeanor prisoners be released without bail and that a work furlough facility be put into operation as soon as possible.

The recommendation to abolish the harbor district was made by the committee headed by contractor Budd O. Stevenson.

"A strong and determined effort must be made by the Board of Supervisors and the County Manager to consolidate, abolish or otherwise reduce the number of special districts within the county, such as the harbor commission, etc.," the report states.

THE COMMITTEE noted that, despite the large increase in assessed valuation of property last year, "most of the districts did not proportionately reduce their tax rates."

"Duplication of services, local jealousies and fear of consolidation continue to cost the taxpayers dearly."

The committee said for County Manager E. R. Stallings:

"The delegation of authority and responsibilities to the county manager has enhanced this county's stability of finances, future growth, inter-county development and planning."

Unit Donates Mission Sign

South San Francisco has acquired a second Mission Bell highway sign and will erect the rare, historical memento of days gone by along El Camino Real in front of the Buri Buri Fire Station, just off the El Camino.

The sign was donated to the city by the Women's Club of Buri Buri. The city's only other Mission Bell sign now stands on El Camino, near the city's southern border.

City Manager Eugene Aiello told the City Council Monday night the newest Mission Bell will be put in place after Fire Chief John Marchi has determined a location that will not interfere with fire equipment.

Oil Company. It was approved by the council.

Mrs. Mahoney claimed that the permit application had "gone to the Planning Commission in direct violation of city ordinances." And she added:

"We want it on record that my property will not be damaged."

City Attorney John Noonan told Mrs. Mahoney that the city couldn't provide any guarantee against damage because the city's ordinances don't provide for such a guarantee.

George Day, representing Shell Oil Company, declared:

"I'm sure it isn't our intention to be a party to any destruction of her property. We will be responsible."

Mrs. Mahoney said later that the rebuilt station would be closely adjacent to her house.

Man With Bullet in Back Chases, Halts Assailant

A San Bruno man, shot in the back following an argument on a San Francisco street, pursued his assailant in his auto Thursday night and forced the assailant's car to curbside in Daly City. Both parties then drove to Daly City police headquarters to report the incident.

The victim, Arthur Lee Price, 46, of 3021 Fasman Drive, was taken to Mary's Help Hospital by police for emergency treatment and then transferred to Kaiser Foundation Hospital in San Francisco for surgery.

Daly City Patrolman Robert Sola said a .22 caliber bullet from a small, two-shot gun had lodged in Price's back, between his shoulder blades.

Sola said the gun was taken from Bruce G. Anderson, 22, of San Francisco. Anderson was turned over to San Francisco authorities who said no charges had been placed, pending an investigation.

Price related this sequence of events to Sola:

He was parked on the south end of Lake Merced Boulevard, "just smoking a cigarette," when a car driven by Anderson pulled abreast of the driver's side of his auto.

Price said he got out the passenger's side and after an exchange of words, he walked back to his auto. As he did so, the driver of the other car wheeled his auto around, pulled up on the passenger's side, fired one shot at him and drove away.

Price, still with the bullet wound, gave chase. The chase wound through the Olympic section of Daly City before he was able to force his assailant's car to the curb at Lake Merced and Alemany Boulevard.

When a passenger in Anderson's car, Carol Ann Bracco, 21, of San Francisco, then inquired if Price had been shot, he replied that he had.

At this point, both men agreed to drive to Daly City police headquarters.

Officer Sola said later that the two men and the girl all appeared "calm, cool and collected" when they arrived.

D.C Resident Wins Medal

Two Army sergeants who are serving as instructors with the Reserve Officers' Training Corps program at Galileo High School in San Francisco, were presented the Army Commendation Medal for their prompt and effective action saving an ROTC cadet from choking to death.

The ceremony was at the school last week.

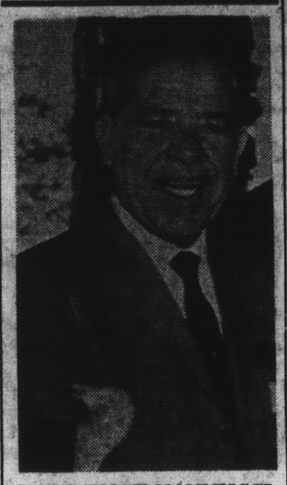
Deaths



LAWRENCE VANNUCCI
Dies at 77

L. Vannucci, Construction Leader, Dies

President of Bay City Building Materials, Vannucci Bros. Concrete Company and Millbrae Materials Company, he lived at 32 Northgate Court, Daly City.

His company supplied much of the foundation, curbing and street pavement work that went into the building of Westlake.

The most recent project his firm was associated with was the construction of Mary's Help Hospital. The company was a sub-contractor on that project.

He founded Vannucci Construction Company in 1921 after he came from Italy to San Francisco 50 years ago.

Vannucci was active in politics, service organizations and social clubs in the north county.

He was on the board of directors of the First National Bank of Daly City and was an honorary supervisor of San Mateo County.

He is survived by his wife, Margaret; his sons, Mickey Conci and Lawrence Jr., and a daughter, Julia Crudo.

Funeral services were held yesterday by Valente, Marini and Perata Funeral Directors, San Francisco.

Burial was in Mt. Olivet Cemetery.

HERBERT COLYER

Herbert E. Colyer, 83, a former resident of South San Francisco, died January 9 in a San Francisco hospital after a sudden illness.

He was a native of Pennsylvania, and a resident of California for 11 years.

Survivors include his wife, Grace, San Francisco; a son, the Rev. Clifford Colyer, Firebaugh; two sisters, Annie V. Colyer, and Mrs. Florence Jones, Thompsontown, Pa.; two brothers, Nelson, Thompsontown, and Roy, Williamsport, Pa., and two grandchildren.

He was a member of Buri Buri Methodist Church, and the Altalthan Masonic Lodge in Philadelphia.

Funeral services were held at Buri Buri Methodist Church. Interment was in Lewistown, Pa. Arrangements were by Nauman & Lincoln Chapel.

ERNEST PERKINS

Ernest Perkins, 54, 208 Polaris Way, Daly City, was pronounced dead on arrival at Mary's Help Hospital at 5:07 p.m. Friday, victim of possible heart trouble.

Perkins, a contractor, had arrived home, said hello to his wife, Doris, and gone into the kitchen. She found him there later on the floor. He had a history of heart trouble, Deputy Coroner Robert Jessen said.

Laguna Gets Evaluation Of Workshop

An evaluation of a transportation workshop held in December, was given by Superintendent Fred Lucas at a Laguna Salada School District board of trustees meeting last week.

He reported there were few accidents involving school buses in San Mateo County until the last 30 days of the year when there were 14.

The Workshop emphasized to attending bus drivers the importance of defensive driving since it was pointed out most accidents can be attributed to driver error.

In other business, the Board discussed a letter of invitation to trustees to participate in a seminar and field study in Europe next autumn. The itinerary includes Prague, Bucharest, Russia and East Berlin.

The topic of the seminar and field study will be: "Contrasts in European Education."

The tour is sponsored by the National School Boards Association, Phi Delta Kappa, and the Comparative Education Society.

The letter states that the need for the tour came about "because of the widespread interest in education under communism in contrast with noncommunist education in Europe."

A report on new safety patrol equipment was given at the meeting. Cost of helmets, red jackets, insignia, stop signs and other equipment is $854. Contributions to the cost were made by the P-TAs and the Pacifica Lions Club.

The appointment of William Dodge as Coordinator for "Program Hilltop" was announced by Lucas.

Dodge, who was described as having an "excellent background," will work with principals at San Andreas and Westview Schools, starting January 31, on a new compensatory education plan.

A total of $51,797 has been allotted to the Laguna Salada School District for the program under the provisions of Title I of The Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965.

A former summer school principal at the Sunshine School for Handicapped Children in San Francisco, Dodge has also worked in the San Francisco Recreation Department with underprivileged children.

Lucas also announced the appointment of Mrs. Vida Gremminger as consultant for "Program Hilltop."

Mrs. Gremminger is a district school teacher and has a master's degree and credentials in guidance and counseling. Lucas described her as "a person who can communicate with people in all walks of life."

TWO THINGS that the NPL Basketball Tourament proved were (1) South San Francisco's going to win it all; (2) It may be, all around the weakest but best balanced basketball year since the North Peninsula League was founded.

The Warriors have some pretty good horses and we like their hustle (although we didn't like the way their coach poured it on Westmoor — but that's another column), but a good shooting club who won't panic could pick them top pieces.

Surprise team of the tourney was third place Terra Nova. Surprise player was TN's little Jim Bresnahan.

Tiger coach Rich Burt has done a fine job of molding a green bunch of little guys into a solid team. When a coach is faced with a group of little men with no experience, about all he can really hope for is moxie and the emergence of a leader.

His boys proved they have the moxie in the tournament by scrapping well-manned Jeff all the way in a losing battle, and in nipping Westmoor by a point the next night—their first-ever victory over the Rams.

And Bresnahan, a fugitive from the lightweight team, may have been the leader emerged.

JIM ISN'T A HOLLAR GUY, but he's the kind of shooter who can keep a team out of a scoring slump or spark a rally. He isn't flashing, but he seldom makes a mistake.

Bresnahan's (he follows two basketball playing brothers, Bud and Jack) speciality is free throwing. Last year he hit for an amazing 87 per cent of his charity tosses.

Putting that into better perspective, former Celtic Bill Sharman holds the all-time NBA lifetime foul shooting average, 88.3 per cent. His closet competitor is Dolph Schayes, 84.4.

We're not saying that Bresnahan's as good a foul shooter as Sharman (although the pros shoot from the same place as the preps, and the pressure on the shooter is relatively equal), but he may be one of the best high school foul shooters in the state.

Time is the only test of greatness. If he can shoot 87 per cent this year, and again, next year, the above statement may be worth booming.

Burt says that Bresnahan improves 100 per cent every year. If this formula holds, and considering that Jim's only a junior, NPL rivals—and foul shooting records—may have hell to pay next year.

TERRA NOVA'S scrappy forward, Mike Kenny, may, incidentally, prove to be one of the best athletes in the NPL, perhaps even Terra Nova's all-time best.

A jnuior, Kenny, big, strong, quick, and fearless, is proving himself a competent basketballer (he was all-league as a lightweight).

Only Jeff's senior, Al Nammany, managed to beat Kenny out as an all-league fullback this past grid season, and Mike, who laid off of baseball last year, was a near all-league freshman in that sport.

ONE MORE ITEM on the NPL tournament. The best official was Ron Gaggero, who, ironically, is a San Francisco junior high baseball coach and former pro in the Cardinal chain. But don't worry, he qualifies. He was also a fine basketball player at Sacred Heart.

★ ★ ★

WRITING OF Jim Bresnahan's fine touch from the foul line reminded us that some of the NBA's finest big men, like Nate Thurmond, Bill Russell and Wilt Chamberlain, are lousy free throwers.

Why should that be? Basically, its' the easiest part of the game. Come to think of it, maybe that's why they're so bad at that and so good at everything else.

SEEMS WE CAN'T GET away from Terra Nova this week, mainly because it was an exceptional week in sports for the Coastsiders.

This item concerns a capsule athletic miracle, which, if magnified, would be roughly the equivalent of a team crippled with injuries winning the World Series after being down three games.

The picture was thus: Terra Nova was 16 points behind in their wrestling meet with arch-rival Oceana with only four matches remaining. In inter-scholastic wrestling, a pin is worth five points, a decision three, a draw one. This meant that the Tigers had to take three pins and a decision. And with a couple of men in the up-coming divisions out with injuries, the task seemed super-human, especially when Al Johnson of Oceana came up with a decision, which meant that the Tigers then had to take three consecutive pins.

So Larry Crass, Terry Radomski and Lee "Moose" Miller donned their capes and did it, to give TN a two-point victory.

Frank Merriwell, Jack Armstrong, Bobby Thompson, Little Orphan Annie and the Batman many now step aside.

AND A TERRA NOVA social note. Mike La Fontaine, a defensive standout on last season's surprising Tiger football team and now a Marine private, is engaged to his high school sweetheart, Judith Taufer.

UNETHICAL as it may be for one to censure his own breed, we think in this case it's deserved.

A San Francisco sports columist last week virtually charged that Cassius M. A. Clay faked his ignorance to twice flunk Army mental tests, which is a serious enough charge in itself. But the columnist went even further, in our opinion, in implying that Army physicians have let Joe Namath off the draft hook simply because he's a famous athlete.

The writer in question feels that if Namath can play football he can fight the Viet Cong, which is as fallacious a piece of reasoning as assuming that a girdle with a three-way stretch can handle a lady who stretches four ways.

There is a vast difference between an AFL football game, which encompasses roughly 12-15 minutes a week of actual action, and living under the constant threat of instant death 24 hours a day in rice paddies.

Were we suddenly thrown into such a situation, we know that we wouldn't want a buddy with a knee liable to fail him at any moment flanking us. Namath's draft wouldn't be fair to him or his fellow soldiers.

As for the Clay case, we can all rest assured that Army psychologists are tough guys to fool.

We know. We tried flunking the same tests they gave Clay and they took us anyway.

Which proves that the Army can recognize true intellect when they capture it.

FOOTBALL ANNOUNCERS reached the height of euphemism this year when they announced commercials during halftimes as "intermissions."

Which, logically, we suppose, made the field halftime activities part of the games.

HMB's Debut Is a Disaster, 91-46

Warrior 5 Rip Coast Unit Easily

Half Moon Bay High School was initiated into the fraternity of the North Peninsula League, and the new pledge's hazing was more than complete.

Visiting South San Francisco asserted its mastery in the first quarter with 30 points.

The reserves took over for the rest of the contest for an eventual 91-46 win and a long, tiresome day for Coastside fans.

South S.F.'s 6-6 forward Jim Henry dropped in five field goals over the outstretched hands of the shorter Cougars in the first stanza and sat down.

Getting only one shot at the basket at a time, Half Moon Bay failed to score in the second quarter. Coach Bill Purcell's boys left the court with a devastating 54-11 lead.

Half Moon Bay Coach Chuck Short had more headaches in the second half, as the Warrior second liners could do little wrong.

Forward John Majka led the "go squad" with 10 points and eight rebounds. Teammates John Immel, Ron Beall, and Kevin Pickett each hit for 10 points.

Senior forward Ted Gaines gave Cougar fans something to cheer about in the second half. Gaines hit on seven long jumpers in the final quarter to emerge the game's scoring leader with 18 points.

"South City has a real fine ball club. I only wish we could have stayed close enough to them to allow their first club more playing time.

The boys (HMB) were playing better ball at the start of the season than they did tonight; I do hope to give a few clubs some trouble before the league's over," Short said.

Bruce Brian's 14 points lead the South City B team to a 69-32 win over the Half Moon Bay lightweights in the first game of the double-header.

Wednesday the Warriors clouted Westmoor, 53-34.

Coming off a lopsided loss at the NPL tournament to the champion Warriors' 79-43, Westmoor coach Tony Giammona's strategy became apparent in the first minutes of play.

The Rams held the ball looking for the close-in shot, ignoring the fast break many times in order to set up and force the Warriors out of their fast-moving, high-scoring attack.

South S.F. scored on the opening tip play, but after that the Rams took charge.

Gary Anible hit on three quick fielders underneath while the Warriors had difficulty finding the range, shooting a poor 25 per cent in the first half.

Giammona's troops left the court with a 16-13 half-time edge.

Warrior coach Purcell must have had the answer at half-time, for the Warriors that took the floor in the second half were the Warriors of old.

Lanky forward Henry hit a free throw, then Mike Martinelli hit a short jumper.

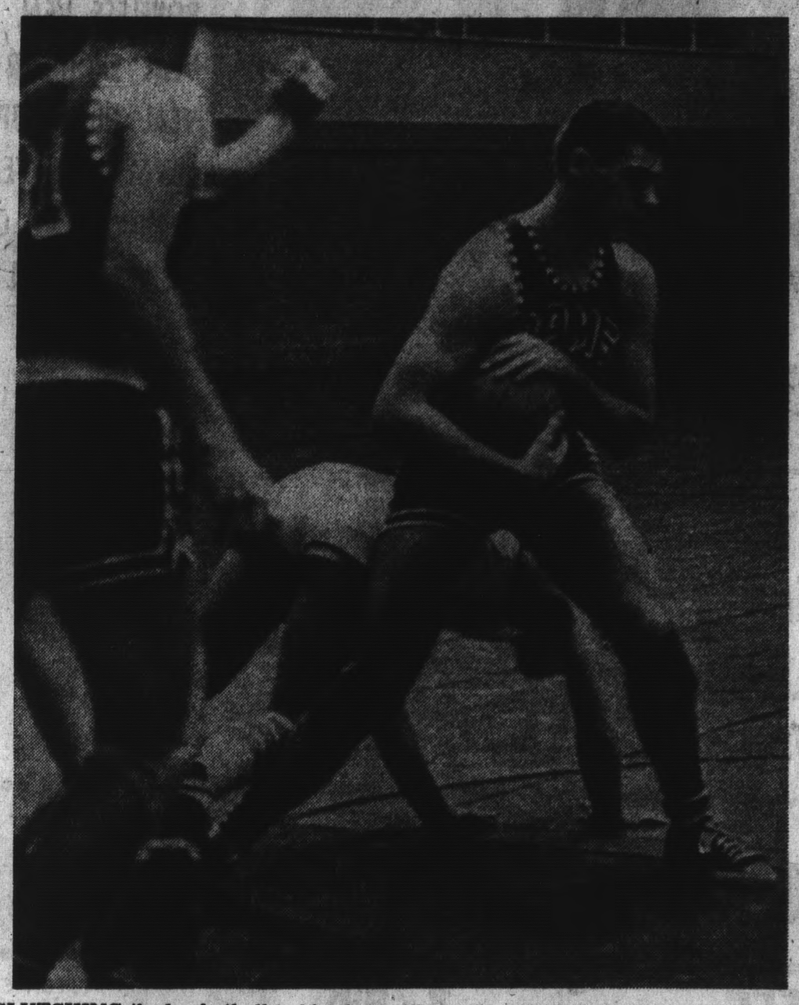
The Industrial City five was never headed after that. South City's superior height began to tell as Henry soared for the majority of his 23 rebounds in the second half.

The Warriors blew the game wide open in the fourth quarter. The dynamic forward duo of Jim Henry and Greg Jones found the shooting range for 17 points between them in the final quarter.

Jones and Henry wound up the game as twin scoring leaders with 20 each.

Westmoor opened up its attack in the final period scoring 14 points, but the Warriors had set the tempo and had the momentum going with them. Westmoor center Don Lippi led the Ram scores with 10 points and nine rebounds.

A Ram Cradles the Casaba



CLUTCHING the basketball to his chest, Westmoor High School's John Heick avoids an unidentified Jefferson blayer who falls sprawling behind him. Heick and his Ram mates met two of the toughest clubs in the NPL last week and lost both games. In this tilt with the Indians, the Rams lost, 55-42. Earlier in the week, they lost to South San Francisco, 55-23.

NO KEY TILTS

Slow Week Set For NPL Cagers

North Peninsula League basketball teams move into their second week of play this afternoon with no key games scheduled until the fifth round a week from today.

With Jefferson and South San Francisco sporting 2-0 NPL marks and not slated to play each other until the week of January 26, games this week pit the three top clubs against the four lower-ranked five.

Today, Oceana (0-2) will travel to Westmoor (0-2) in a joust of cellar dwellers. Terra Nova (1-1) will be at South San Francisco (2-0) and El Camino (1-0) will host Half Moon Bay (0-1). Jefferson (2-0) has a bye.

All games will start at 3 p.m. A B's game will follow each varsity contest.

Friday, the Colts will travel to Oceana for an 8:30 p.m. tilt, Half Moon Bay will host Jefferson at 3 p.m. and Westmoor will be at Terra Nova at 3 p.m.

All three league-leaders should have little trouble with their opposition this week.

None of the four bottom clubs, with the possible exception of Terra Nova, seem capable of springing an upset.

Although El Camino, one of the better teams in the circuit, had nothing but difficulty with the Tigers last Wednesday, the Colts are still favored to go into next week's game with South San Francisco with an unbeaten record.

Jefferson, the other prime threat to the title-favored Warriors, is also a strong favorite to advance into its January 26 game with South S.F. with an unblemished record.

From the looks of the schedule, the last three rounds of each half of the league season will be the best.

Boat Show To Open At Cow Palace

The largest flotilla of sailboats ever assembled at the San Francisco National Sports and Boat Show will drop anchor at the Cow Palace for a ten-day stay, February 4 through 13.

All makes and sizes, both foreign and domestic, will participate and there will be a sailboat to fit every purse.

Among the early entries is the Bermuda, a 24-foot sailboat made by Wayfarer Yacht Corporation of Costa Mesa. It is made of molded fiberglas with aluminum spar and boom.

This year's show will have the largest assembly of both sailboats and power boats of any show in the nation and will occupy ten vast halls and buildings at the Cow Palace.

Doors will be open daily from 2 to 11 p.m., Saturdays from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. and Sundays from 11 a.m. until 7 p.m.

S.S.F. TOPS

South San Francisco High School, regarded as the best cage unit in the NPL this year, sports an 8-2 overall record right now. This record is the best in the league.

Optimists To Host Golfers

Touring golf pros who will compete in the Lucky International Golf Tournament at Harding Park in San Francisco this month will be guests of the Lake Merced Optimists Club Tuesday at the club's weekly luncheon in the Red Chimney Restaurant in Stonestown.

Among the pros invited are Billy Casper, George Bayer and George Archer. The public is invited to attend.

Door prizes, including a matched set of golf clubs and a $100 watch, will be awarded.

OCEANA YOUNG

Coach Rich Burt at Oceana High School in Pacifica is banking in a youth movement to bolster his club's chances for a threat at the NPL cage crown during the next two years.

BOWLING

T SEA BOWL By PENNY SMITH

S SERRA BOWL By EILEEN STEVENS

Sea Bowl

SEA BOWL was the host for two Antioch return match games this weekend and I must say that we were most pleased not only with the results, but also with the friendly spirit that prevailed over the evening. In our home territory, Sea Bowl managed to win four out of the six games. At Antioch we split even. The return match-game should be very interesting. Good luck to all the bowlers.

Over the weekend Sea Bowl began their second annual Handicap Doubles Tournament. It will be in progress through March 6. The cost is $5 per bowler with an added Optional Singles Feature for $1 extra. Guaranteed first place $400. One prize for each 10 entries for the doubles and one prize for each 20 entries for the optional singles. For squad reservations call Primo or Sam at 359-1666.

Now for the league news:

Bowling with the Slaves and Masters Division of the Cocktail League, Kay Hutchinson on Krake Construction Company had the high series for the ladies with a 512. Gay Harris on Ed and Jim's Union 76 shot the high game with a 204. For the men, Bill Roberts, All American Bowling and Bill Funk, L&S Drayage shared the honors with Bill R. shooting 214 for the high game and Bill F. the high series, 600 even.

For the Hits and Mrs. Division—Betty Carlton bowling with California Auto Supply had a big 191 for a nice 484 and the high game for the ladies.

Penny Smith with Boccie Realty had the high series, 517. For the men, Joe Aiello with Rehn Holiday Magic District shot the high game and series for the men with 198 for 527.

On the Monday Morning Yawners Janice Hutchens bowling on Val Salet Team had a 178 for a 446 and the high for the day. Barbara Braunworth bowled her first 400 series. For a 110 average, this is really great. Pat Pursch bowling with Nelson Construction picked up the 5-7 split on her way to a 136 triplicate. Congratulations to all you girls.

ON THE MEN'S 835 Scratch, Gene Fergusson, Team No. 6 had a beautiful 258 game for the men. Bill Pond shooting on the Pink Mug Team rolled a 243 on his way to a 607 series.

On the Salty Fours League, Paul Hewitt on HMB Feed and Fuel Team shot 210 for 593 and the high game and series for the men. Gloria Janson on Vallemar Market had a big 199 game for the high for the ladies.

High series for the ladies is credited to Lola Palmer with a 499. Don Zarnoch bowling in the 900 Classic League put together games of 192-227-233 for a big 652 series and the high for the evening. John Riley on Tom Collins Plumbing shot a 234 game only to be outdone by Wes Hill, Ralph's Chevron Team who shot a big 238.

In our midst among all the pacers on the Sea Bowlerettes there stands out in the crowd a young lady to whom we all stand in awe. Coming in under a 170 average Claudette "Sam" Rugg bowling on the Flying Goose Team really tore up the Sea Bowl lanes shooting games of 228-206-247 for 679. This accounts for 36 frames with only one open. As we told you Sam, Rosie and I have already taken steps for your transfer to ABC.

That was just beautiful, you Rat Fink. Ginny Featherstone, bowling on the same team as Sam had a nice 581 series. It really is a good series, But Ginny!

Lois Talbot shooting on Neptune's Daughters had a nice 225 game for a 531 series and the high for the day.

Westlake Bowl

BARBARA REDEMER bowled her first two hundred game in leading the Starliters League last Monday night. Completely disregarding her 137 average, Barbara rolled games of 186 and 126 then finished with a great 242 for a 534 series.

Milan Stanley led his Shadow Box Lounge team to a new high team game mark in the Country Club League as he rolled games of 245-190 and 201 for a 636 series. His 245 game helped set the new high team mark of 936.

Three ladies tied for high series in the 850 Scratch League as Lois Shaff, Kay French and Betty Thomas all shot 561 series. Lois took high game honors with 213 followed by Kay with 212 and Betty with 203.

Blue Chip stamps continue to be the big attraction for both ladies and men. The latest attraction is Sunday 9:30 p.m. Blue Chip Bonanza similar to the high successful Saturday evening affairs. Advance registration may be made at the desk.

Bob Grout won the Friday Jackpot Rolloff with a big 254 game and 693 series, then defeated John Brown five strikes to two and became the new King of the Hill.

Mary Lawson took high series honors in two afternoon leagues, shooting 496 in the Keglerettes and 505 in the Tea Timers.

Telco bowler of the week was Jim Todd with a 213 game and 609 series.

In the TGIF League, Ruth Tobin led the ladies with 178-514 and Pete Anduha topped the men with a 222 game and 560 series.

Interested in Tournaments? Now is the time to enter. Among those presently accepting entries are the Men's and Women's Team Handicap, Men's and Women's City, Men's and Women's State, plus the ABC and WIBC Tournaments. Entry blanks and information are available at the desk.

A BIG 233 GAME and 640 series gave Vince Ferrigno the week's lead in the 865 Scratch League.

Frank De Fellippo led the 805 Scratch League with a 238 game and 589 series.

Diane De Cespre and Darlene Wilson both rolled 463 series to lead the ladies in the Southgate Mixed Fives with Al Da Costa topping the men on a 216 game and 577 series.

Scores were again high in the Sunday morning Father and Son League, Sonny Vinet shooting 203—532, Paul Biancalana 225—572, Jerry Middleton 202 and Barry Brown 200.

Kay French almost had a big step-ladder series as she rolled 209-192-208 in the Ladies Invitational League to finish with a 609 series.

In the Junior Leagues, Director Marge Brown reports much activity in return to league play after the Christmas holidays, two new leagues for Pee Wees and Bantams and the meeting January 22 at 11:30 a.m. to discuss the Anaheim trip next July.

Kaye O'Reilly was the leading lady in the Saturday Mixed Singles with 166-438 as Mac McCoy topped the men with 210 and 518.

Dick Chaika set the pace in the Sunday evening Westlake Wedlocks with 216 and 587.

Ben Franklin Wins Opener

The Benjamin Franklin School eighth grade basketball team defeated Southwood School of South San Francisco, 60-44, last week in the league opener for both schools.

Franklin, losing by 24-20 in the middle of the second period, went into a full-court press and reeled off nine straight points to take a half-time lead of 29-24.

The Daly City five won the tilt with ease in the second half.

Glenn Phillips led Franklin with 18 points. Scott Alves hit 14. Don Shotts and Steve Wahler each had ten.

JEFF TIED FOR 1ST

Indians Wallop Westmoor, 55-42

The Indians, despite the absence of starters Willie Redmond—the team's leading scorer—and Dan Cafferata, defeated Westmoor High School, 55-42, at Jefferson Friday afternoon.

It marked the second straight league win for the Indians and the second loss in two games for the Rams, who trailed from the start.

Redmond, who was ineligible, and Cafferata, who is nursing a sprained ankle, did not play. They are both expected to be ready for the next game.

Jefferson won the game at the free throw line, sinking 21 out of 26 to Westmoor's 8 for 16.

The Indians ran away in the fourth period, doubling their five-point lead.

Jeff Coach Mike Orlich said his guards "were outstanding on both offense and defense," though Westmoor dominated the boards. "If we had a big man, we'd take the league, because we have two of the best guards and two of the best forwards in the league," Orlich added.

Westmoor Coach Tony Giammona was unhappy with his team's effort. "I was real disappointed in the way they played, and now I'll go with the young kids, because the seniors can't do anything at all," he said.

Pete Barry, Tom Pritchard and George Egan all hit in double figures to spark Jefferson's victory. Barry led with 17.

Gary Anible led the losers with 13.

Jefferson also won the lightweight contest, 45-36.

Wednesday, the Indians, who took a back seat to South San Francisco in the NPL tournament, opened their 1966 conference season with an impressive 59-37 victory over Oceana on the winner's court.

Coach Orlich's team got off to a hot start and never looked back.

After Oceana has started the scoring with free tosses by John Hollingsworth and Jim Varner, the Indians rallied back behind the shooting of Barry and Pritchard to take a 16-9 first-quarter lead.

Orlich's boys increased it to 35-23 at the intermission, and the Indian fans sat back and rested their vocal chords.

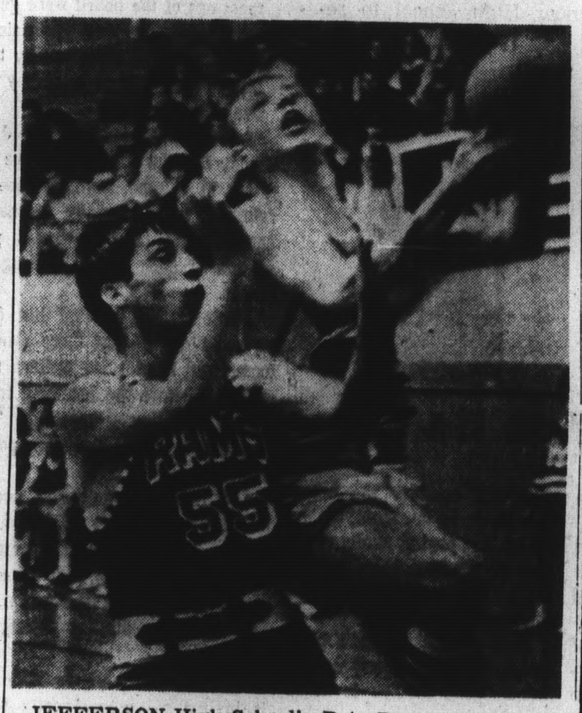
Remond, who spirited Jeff's 19-point second-stanza rally, departed from the contest midway through the third quarter after taking away game high honors with 19 points.

Orlich began clearing his bench after the Jeffs held a 46-29 lead entering the final period.

Barry and Cafferata followed Redmond with 11 points each towards the Indian cause. Hollingsworth and Tim Sershen paced the Sharks with six markers each.

The Indians made it a sweep by taking the class B game, 45-30.

High-Flying Indian



JEFFERSON High School's Pete Barry, 22, drives the lane in last Friday afternoon's NPL game with defending champion Westmoor. The Rams' Joe Anible, 55, tries gamely to halt the flying Barry, but to no avail. Barry made the lay-up. Jefferson won the contest, 55-42.

TN Splits Pair of League Games; Bresnahan Shines

Jim Bresnahan scored 19 points to lead Terra Nova High School to a 45-41 win over Oceana in a North Peninsula Athletic League basketball game that was interrupted by a bomb scare Friday.

The game was halted six minutes into the second period, and the gym was cleared while police and firemen searched the gym and he locker areas for a bomb. None was found, and the game resumed.

Terra Nova led all the way to post its first win of the league season. The Tigers are now 1-1. Oceana has an 0-2 record.

Oceana won the class B game, 51-47.

Wednesday, El Camino nipped the Tigers, 58-51, in the league opener for both schools.

The Colts, unable to even purchase a field goal in the entire first period, exploded for 20 points in the second quarter and 25 markers in the fourth period.

Actually, it was key buckets by Rich Williams and big Ed Green in the last few minutes which allowed th Colts to prevail over Terra Nova.

Another key factor in their win in the North Peninsula League curtain-raiser was making a bristling 62 per cent of their shots from the floor.

Camino, down 9-2 at the end of the first period, got its first field goal 1:40 into the second stanza when Rich Williams hit a jumper.

A 12-point outburst by guard Gordon Sanoff pulled the Colts to within one point, 23-22, as the half-itme buzzer rang.

The Colts again turned cold in the third period and Terra Nova, paced by Mike Kenny and Dan Wimmer, pulled the Tigers out to a 37-33 lead as the quarter ended.

The hectic fourth quarter started out with both teams trading buckets and it looked like it was going to stay that way right down to the end. But the Colts, sparked by Mick Ackley's three straight field goals, finally pulled abreast of Terra Nova, 46-46, with 3:15 left to play.

School Bonds Merit Support

THE RESIDENTS of two North County school districts will go to the polls Tuesday to make a decision that will have a profound effect on the education of youngsters in these districts in coming years.

The districts, Jefferson Elementary and Jefferson High School, have combined forces to sponsor a bond issue election that, if successful, would provide funds to build new schools the districts say will be needed by the start of the next decade. A two-thirds vote is needed for passage.

Looking at its projected enrollment figures, the high school district estimates that nearly 10,000 students will be attending classes by 1971-72. This total represents a 3,700-pupil increase over the present enrollment.

In the elementary district, the expected jump in student enrollment over the next five years also will be considerable. In 1970-71, district officials say, some 13,000 students will be attending classes compared to this year's enrollment of 9,600.

To house these additional students, both districts are planning new schools and additions to existing schools. In the high school area, the district plans to build two schools in the Serramonte subdivision and ultimately, when the region is developed, two schools in the former Crocker Estates area. The last increment or addition to Terra Nova High School also is planned.

The elementary district proposes to build four new schools, including John F. Kennedy, and to add classrooms to its present schools.

NEW SCHOOLS, of course, cost money and in this state, these funds have traditionally been raised through the sale of a district's bonds and by borrowing from the state. Before a district can borrow, however, it must already have floated its legal maximum amount of bonds in each year.

In the Jefferson Elementary District, the district must receive voter approval to sell $3-million in bonds to keep it up to maximum through 1970-71 and thus permit it to take advantage of state loans for its building program.

The situation is similar in the high school district and the district is seeking voter approval not only to issue $10-million in bonds but also for authorization to ask for a new state loan of $5.5-million.

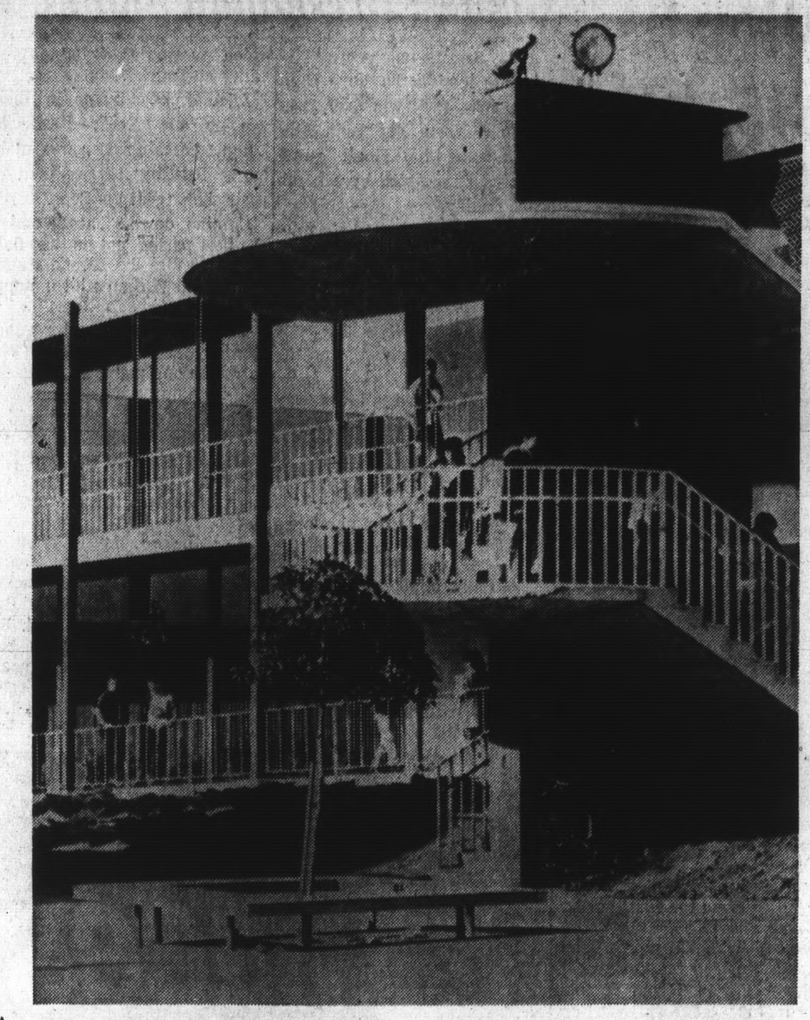
In both districts, however, approval of the bond issues will not mean an increase in tax rates—a somewhat unusual situation. This is because the districts both are now levying a maximum tax to retire past obligations and this maximum will remain constant until 1990 in the elementary district and until 1986 in the high school district.

If the bond issue should fail in the elementary district, the district would be forced to raise its tax rate an average of 10 to 20 cents per $100 of assessed valuation.

FROM THE record, it can be fairly said that residents of these two school districts have benefitted from a high caliber of leadership over the past years and that farsightedness in planning ahead for schools that will be needed has been a hallmark of this leadership.

On the basis of the facts the districts have presented in support of their bond proposals and considering the unwelcome aspect of double-sessions the districts predict if the vote fails, we would urge a solid "yes" vote Tuesday. Good schools are the result of good planning and in this case, the planning deserves voter support.

Jefferson High School



JEFFERSON HIGH SCHOOL, first opened in 1922, is the "newest" school in the Jefferson Union High School District, thanks to a complete rebuilding program now in its final stages. In 1922, enrollment was 46 students. Today, 1,700 attend classes. The principal, John Morgan, is the fourth principal in the school's history. He has served since 1956 when Jefferson was on double sessions. The next year, the district opened Westmoor High School to relieve the enrollment crush at Jefferson. (Post-Times Photo)

Thick Flak And a Policy

Don Miller

WE COULD see the flak coming thick after the Jefferson High School District's decision last week to adopt a new policy governing appearances by residents and teachers at meetings of the board of trustees.

That policy calls for each person who wants to be heard by the board to fill out a card before the start of the meeting, indicating that he wants to speak on some subject. Each person will be limited to three minutes.

First to object to the new proposal was a member of the San Mateo County Town Hall Association, James Himmel of Millbrae, who had read a news story of the board's action.

Himmel indicated it might be a bit premature to judge the trustees' action now but added that it appeared to be a trend toward "big government in the management of purely local affairs."

He asked the Town Hall group to discuss the new policy.

WHETHER OR NOT it's early to pass on the merits of the board's new policy is a subject we'll leave to the Town Hall and other groups at this point.

It's understandably a sensitive area—both with the school district and the public. What the trustees think about it is stated succinctly in a page-long memorandum, supporting the new policy.

Basically, it may be said that the trustees—and in particular, board president Elio Fontana — felt that the bi-monthly meetings of the board were getting bogged down badly in long discussions or complaints or what have you by the public — often interjected at most any point on the board's agenda.

As the business of the Jefferson High School District becomes more complex and grows in volume, both because of rising enrollment and a steady increase in complicated federal and state aid programs, the agenda of each board meeting seems to get longer.

Fontana felt — and his fellow trustees backed him up—that there should be a more formalized format for visitors to follow when speaking before the board—a format designed to speed up board meetings. The memorandum setting forth the new policy states, in part:

"Patrons and employes are requested to follow this district's established chain of authority, by first discussing suggestions, complaints and requests with the school involved. If this evokes no satisfaction, the help and advice of the district superintendent should be solicited.

"If the petitioner is still dissatisfied, he is invited to come directly to the board of trustees, following the procedure (filling out a card). . . .

"The board of trustees is a policy-making body. It has delegated the administration of the district to a professional staff, headed by the district superintendent. We encourage citizens and employes to attend board meetings and we welcome their views but we must insist on this orderly procedure (the card, time limit etc.) in order to offer the best possible educational program to all youngsters of our district."

As we said earlier, it may be putting the cart before the horse to praise or condemn the board's action right now, pending some thought and discussion on the action.

But that the flak over it should get pretty thick should be a foregone conclusion. For the whole business touches on a very basic fundamental—the right of a taxpayer to be heard before a body levying his taxes. What seems to be at issue here is in what manner should that right be exercised.

MYSTERY DEPARTMENT—Pete Markovich, the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce's secretary-manager, cleared up somewhat of a mystery the other day when he explained why the city's official (or unofficial?) colors are blue and gold.

The question of color came up when chamber members received copies of a new brochure to be distributed by the chamber, containing information about the city, a business and professional directory and a map.

The brochure uses a blue and gold color scheme. Markovich explained that the colors were adopted at the time of the city's fiftieth birthday in 1961. At that time, the late Joseph Verducci was a member of the city council.

Verducci was a University of California alumnus and Cal's colors are blue and gold and, well, that's how Daly City's colors got to be blue and gold.

It sounds like a logical story and even if that isn't exactly the way it came about, the colors—as Markovich noted later—can be considered as "a memorial" to Verducci.

WHILE WE'RE rambling around the coloring book this morning and speaking of things blue—how about those sharp, new street signs throughout Daly City, all done up in white letters on a blue background?

They were designed to give motorists an easier-to-see indication of where they were —particularly at night.

What we particularly like about the signs is that you'll know you're in Daly City — with its crazy-quilt, annexation-punctuated boundaries—simply by looking at a street sign.

Maybe it would be a good idea if all the cities on the Peninsula got together and coordinated their street sign color schemes—much like a designer co-ordinates colors—so that Mr. Peninsula Motorist could tell exactly what city he was in at any time by driving to the nearest corner.

Of course, as we all know, we DO have somewhat of a fog problem in this county of ours and it may be that driving to the nearest corner won't do any good. That is to say, the corner—let alone the street sign—may not be visible at all.

Better Business

'Roving' Studio Gripes Mount

Lorene Beasley

A LARGE percentage of the complaints to the Better Business Bureau this month have come from consumer dissatisfaction with portraits contracted with door-to-door salesmen who repesented studios located in other cities.

The disappointments that come with such deals with transient photographers are not limited to holiday seasons but continue in a lesser degree throughout the entire 12 months of the year.

Large numbers of otherwise cautious persons are victimized every year by the itinerant photographer who, as a rule, specializes in children's portraits.

The salesmen's glib representations are actually very good and reasonable. The mother of a family is saved the trouble of taking her children into a strange studio.

No one questions the fact that children are more relaxed and happy having their pictures taken when they are in their familiar home surroundings.

AS A RULE, the roving photographer sets up a studio and employs a staff of sales representatives who go out and sell coupons.

These coupons usually entitle the purchaser to one eight-by-ten black and white portrait.

The cost of the coupon varies with different studios but as a rule sells for around two dollars.

The greatest number of complaints pertaining to transient photographers has been concerning late delivery of pictures that were contracted for as Christmas gifts.

The average time it takes for a finished portrait from an out-of-town photographer to be delivered seems to run from two to three months.

Several weeks elapse before the customer receives the proofs. The proofs have to be returned to either the photographer or to the home office. All is time consuming.

LOCAL MERCHANTS, hoping to promote business, often make arrangements with itinerant photographers to set up studios in their store space.

Very often the small income gained by the extra sales realized by such promotions is more than offset by the resulting customer ill will.

Often the quality of the photographs is inferior. The Better Business Bureau receives many complaints from irate mothers concerning the non-delivery of photographs they had paid deposits on.

The businessman should stop and consider the harm he can do to the local, established, tax-paying studio operator before he decides to give store space to the itinerant in the photographic field.

Such promotions have been known to force many small, home-owned studios to close their doors.

The Bureau has a bulging file on a fly-by-night studio that casually changes its name, moves about and manages to stay in business in spite of insolvency claims.

One promoter has been known to conduct businesses under four different names in a two-year period.

The studio jumped from city to city in Northern California, Oregon, Washington and Idaho, collecting as much contract deposits as possible.

The Bureau files show that the general policy of this studio, as well as other transient studios, has been to deliver inferior and unsatisfactory pictures or, fail to deliver the finished pictures.

When the promoter-type photographer leaves town or moves without leaving an address, it is virtually impossible for the complainant to receive any redress.

The Better Business Bureau advises: deal with locally owned, established studios.

The Marquee

Once Upon A Stage...

Barbara Bladen

AT THE RISK of sounding philosophical I've been trying to analyze the demise of theatre in the Bay Area following the recent announcements that four groups are folding.

When I first took an active part in little theatre activity in San Francisco in 1947, the arts were healthily breeding in the form of the late Andre Ferrier's French Theatre and Arthur Gleditch's Theatre Arts Colony. David Hunte and David Morris had the flourishing Bay Theatre, schools of acting were being conducted by the late Reginald Travers and Elizabeth Holloway.

One of the older established groups, the Green Room Players, owed its success to the late Jack Thomas.

Then came the end of an era, as it does in all cities. Leslie Abbott, currently with Comedia in Palo Alto, took over the charming Victorian house on Washington Street that was used by the Theatre Arts Colony; the French Theatre closed and the Travers School of the Theatre, after performances in the grand style of "Cardinal Richelieu,"in which the "master," Travers, played the leading role (as often as he could) died when he passed away at the Bohemian Club.

By that time, Leon Forbes had come upon the scene and would soon leave the Bay Theatre, which ceased to function as a company, and take over the helm of the Interplayers which had been taken over by the late Loren Gage after the company moved out of the private stage in the Paul Verdier mansion.

SAN FRANCISCO'S leading actress was Joyce Lancaster, who shifted between productions at the Interplayers for the then newly formed Actor's Workshop. This latter group had evolved from a nucleus of drama graduates at Stanford and actors from New York who had come west to raise families and settle down.

The Playhouse at Beach and Hyde Streets became a showcase for avant garde. Lorca, Stein, Broughton, Odets, were playwrights on the bill, long before Williams, Miller, Ionesco and Genet were popular dramatists. A respected past, an indefinite future.

Little theatre activity flourished for another 15-year period as actors and directors moved from group to group.

U.S. Rests On Her Families

Samuel Chandler

"IT IS A common thing," the noted analyst stated, "for children of the famous, feeling totally inadequate to the greatness of their parents, to strike out in lesser and animalistic ways to attract attention or to accomplish something for themselves."

This sentence is the theme of Mel Heimer's novel, "A Family Affair," which explores the tensions inherent in the family of an entertainer who must travel all over the world to preserve his image as a great star.

There are four members of the family. Gordie Harris is an easy-going, wisecracking hoofer who has made his name a household word. Dottie, his wife, gave up a promising career to bear his sons—Slade and Chad.

WHEN THE story opens, Dottie marks off her loneliness and frustration with an endless trail of vodka and gin. Slade drifts from college to Hawaii to London and a brawl which reults in a murderous love scandal.

Chad drifts from shoplifting, to robbery, to prison. Gordie, the father, seems to get more famous every day, in spite of the scandals that involve his sons as well as some of his own making.

Before the story ends Dottie has burned herself to death in a fire induced by a cigarette. Gordie has remarried to Elizabeth, who is Chad's friend, but not private property.

Chad, in turn, has been in and out of prison, the last time for homicide. Slade has gone from one woman to another with boresome rapidity. The end brings a new birth and a fresh start for the Harris line, even if the paternity of the newborn son is not determinable.

THIS BOOK is not my cup of tea. The characters are lecherous and indolent. The author is too frank and includes scenes of sex orgies that are not necessary.

Yet, this is a book that deserves our serious attention for it is a brutally clear picture of a situation in America that turns up in contemporary novels and on the screen too often to ignore.

It is illustrative of what happens to children in a society that is not oriented to strong, unified families. It is a warning to America that her foundations and her greatness depend upon the preservation of families where love and morality exist.

It is also a warning to young people that it is folly to desert one's family, regardless of its quality. Indeed, the author's theme is quoted from William Saroyan:

"A man needs his family, whoever or whatever his family is. He needs them whether he loves or hates them. He may not need them a great deal, but he needs a little of them . . . he needs to be among them and astonished by them."

(Author Samuel Chandler is the Daly City Librarian.)

Letters to the Editor

TO THE EDITOR:

If any good American would take time out to talk with refugees from any of the many countries that have fallen victim to the Communist conspiracy, he would learn that there is a pattern invariably present before the fall of a free country.

Some of the signs are slanted news coverage, promoted acceptance of immorality which weakens the will to resist, downgrading and "liberalization" of religion, ridicule of patriotism, incessant attempts to discredit, harass and immobilize anti-Communists, and finally, the most sinister lie of all that "It can't happen here."

This list should look familiar to any one who really cares about things like freedom.

The question is, will enough good Americans wake up in time? Or will we also become another slave state of Soviet Russia?

RAY E. NAUD,

TO THE EDITOR:

On behalf of the chorus, may I take advantage of this opportunity to thank you for your most generous newspaper coverage this past year.

Also, a "special" thank you to Louanne Heath for her numerous on-the-spot reports of many of our performances.

$487 Stolen From Homes

Two Daly City residents reported to police the theft of a total of $487 from their homes last Tuesday.

Dominic San Filippo of 674 Hanover Street said $250 had been stolen from his house.

S.S.F. Man Appointed Treasurer

A. J. Duffy, of 424 Mariposa Drive, South San Francisco, has been appointed assistant treasurer of Pacific Gas and Electric Company, it was announced by Treasurer Donald L. Bell.

Duffy, 41, has been assistant cashier since 1956 and added the duties of assistant secretary in 1962. He first joined PG&E in 1946 in the stock transfer department. A native of Berkeley, he, with his wife and five children reside at the Mariposa address.

Duffy's post as assistant secretary will be filled by the advancement of J Norman Gehre, 52, presently in the office of the assistant treasurer and cashier. Gehre, who has been with PG&E since 1942, and his wife reside at 26 Westhaven Drive, Daly City.

Bell also announced the retirement of V. D. Vincent, assistant treasurer since 1950. Vincent, who spent his entire business career of 43 years with PG&E and a predecessor company, and his wife live in Walnut Creek.

CSM Five Nips Chabot

Rival Golden Gate Conference coaches thought they had heard the last of the name O'Brien when College of San Mateo's Dennis O'Brien transferred to Utah State this year.

Dennis, now a starter for the Aggies, was the GGC scoring champion and player of the yer for 1964-65.

The ensuing 69-67 CSM victory, second straight in conference play, gives the Bulldogs a third place 2-2 record.

Sugar... 'n' Spice

By NELL NORTON

TWO WEEKS AGO I asked if any of you good cooks had a recipe for carrot cake that you would share with two ladies who were seeking such a recipe. Your response was most rewarding. And as you can guess, there were many duplications, for good cooks seem to share and pass their recipes around. My mail tells me that many of you North County bakers are baking the same cake.

I hope those of you who were kind enough to send me the carrot cake recipes have received my reply.

Space prohibits my printing all the recipes, though they all looked delicious. The first recipe I'm using is representative of many of the recipes I received. In fact the following ladies submitted this type of recipe: Mrs. S. M. Jeppson, Mrs. Dolores Bosshart, Mrs. Delare Beer, Mrs. Neal Lambly, Mrs. Mildred Wetcher, Mrs. John Agati and one mystery sender.

14 KARAT CAKE

2 cups flour
2 cups sugar
2 teaspoons soda
1½ teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1½ cups cooking oil
4 large eggs
3 cups grated, uncooked carrots

Sift together flour, sugar, soda, salt and cinnamon and add cooking oil. Add eggs one at a time, mixing well after each addition. Add carrots and mix again.

Bake in greased and floured 9x13-inch pan in a 350-degree oven for 35 to 40 minutes.

FROSTING

½ pound sifted confectioners sugar
3 ounces cream cheese
¼ cup butter (that's ½ cube)
1 teaspoon vanilla

Cream together the cream cheese and butter. Work in the sugar and add vanilla.

Double this frosting recipe if cake is made in layers.

ONE THEME ran through the letters I received: each good cook was most enthusiastic about this particular cake. Such words as, "excellent, "delicious" and "wonderful" appeared often, and after baking and tasting it, I can see why. It's all these things. Do try it.

IN THE LAST WEEK my family has eaten so many carrots that we must all have 20-20 vision. Carrots are usually not such a favorite around the Norton household, but when they are a part of a delicious cake, resistance melts.

This second carrot cake is different in that it uses no eggs. And the result is a fruit type cake. In this case, also, I received several similar recipes, the difference being in the fruits added. Mrs. Mary Baker, Mrs. R. Kinyon and Mrs. Lucille Palma contributed this type recipe.

CARROT CAKE

1 cup raisins
One and one-third cup sugar
One and one-third cup water
2 tablespoons margarine
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon cloves
3 or 4 good-sized carrots, grated

Combine raisins, sugar, water, margarine, cinnamon, cloves and grated carrots in a saucepan. Bring to a boil and boil for five minutes. Set aside to cool.

2 cups flour
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 cup chopped nuts

Sift together flour, soda and baking powder. Combine with cooled raisin-carrot mixtures. Lastly stir in the nuts. Pour into well-greased and floured tube pan. Bake in 325-degree oven for 1½ hours.

Bayshore Unit To Hold Rag Drive

The Bayshore P-TA will conduct its annual rag drive today through Friday. This is one of our most important money-making activities of the year.

In the past the classes bringing in the most poundage of rags received a cash award.

This year the Bayshore P-TA is giving a surprise to every student in Bayshore-Midway and Robertson Schools.

Mrs. Floyd Osterberg, president of the unit, announced that this year's chairman would be Mrs. Fred Pajkos and Mrs. Ernest Raffo.

Library Friends Will Meet Today, Speaker Slated

The Executive Board of the Friends of the Daly City Library met January 6 to finalize plans for tomorrow's annual meeting scheduled at 8 p.m. at the Westlake Library.

Speaker for the evening will be Dr. Earl S. Herald, superintendent and curator of the Steinhart Aquarium in San Francisco.

Chairman of the meeting is Mrs. Vinton S. Stratton. Assisting her are Mrs. Winsor Josselyn, refreshments; Mrs. Lincoln Walters and Mrs. Ron Bates, hostessing; Mrs. Samuel Simon, secretary; Mrs. Harold Fox, publicity, and Mr. H. Z. Weibel who will introduce the speaker.

The Daly City Garden Club will furnish floral arrangements. The public is cordially invited for the evening.

Seven Hills B'nai B'rith Sets Meet

Seven Hills B'nai B'rith Women will hold a membership tea on January 29 from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Klaus Holt of 151 Crestmoor Circle, Pacifica.

Any Jewish woman, 18 years old or over, is invited to attend.

For further information or transportation, please call Mrs. Bernard LaPedis at WY 2-2454, or Mrs. Mel Reitman at PL 5-0623.

Holy Angels Women To Hold Show

Holy Angels' fashion show reservations will be open Saturday, in the parish hall from 12:30 to 3 p.m. and Sunday, from 8 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., according to reservations chairmen Mmes. Eugene Nunziati, and Edward Stokes and John Flemer.

The show will be held on February 19, at the Sheraton Thunderbolt in Millbrae and fashions will be by The Fashion of Westlake.

Hostess' chairmen Mmes. William McCarthy and James McLoughlin have announced the following hostesses: Mmes. Peter Wall, W. P. Holland, Edward Oliva, Dave Storman, John Martyn, Rex Golobic, Christopher Elliot, Albert Collett, Maurice Lafayette, Caesar Sabbatani, Ray Leahy, Fred Revetria and Joseph Dillon.

The Hostesses will model wigs from Kitti of California of Brentwood Village.

Riordan Guild To Sponsor Luncheon Next Wednesday

Riordan Guild will sponsor a luncheon and games afternoon at 11:30 next Wednesday morning in Chaminade Hall at Riordan High School in San Francisco.

The price for the afternoon is $2 and includes a hot lunch.

Mrs. Albert Bucci and Mrs. Theodore Martin are chairman and co-chairman respectively for this event.

All proceeds from this social afternoon will benefit the expansion of the facilities of the school library.

Reservations and information may be obtained from Mrs. Bucci at PL 5-4333, Mrs. Martin at PL 5-5834, or Mrs. William Essig at LO 4-8112.

Serra Mothers To Hear Speaker

The Serra High School Mothers' auxiliary will meet today at 1:15 p.m. in the school library.

The Rev. J. Thomas Madden, director of Counseling and Guidance, at Serra will be the guest speaker. His talk will be part two on "The Religious Aspect in the Adolescent Psychology."

Tater Tidbits To Please the 'Teens

When your teen-age daughter or son invites all the gang over to listen to records and clean out your refrigerator, you'll need to have foods on hand that make up into instant snacks. The most popular teen food is French fries dunked in spicy catsup. But here's a snack idea that goes one step further . . . and is just that much better. We've taken frozen French fried potato rounds, the kind that are log-shaped, and wrapped them in bacon and cheese to cook and crisp. They're delicious and good for the youngsters, too. With these hot Tater Tidbits, serve a bubbling, refreshingly tart and cool punch made with 7-Up; just mix equal parts of 7-Up with cranberry or grapefruit juice.

Tater Tidbits

1 1-pound package frozen French fried potato rounds
1½ pounds bacon*
2 8-ounce packages sliced American cheese

Let potato rounds stand at room temperature until defrosted. Cut bacon slices in half and partially cook. Cut cheese slices into thirds. Wrap a strip of cheese around each potato round; wrap bacon over cheese and fasten with a toothpick. Broil 4 inches from heat for 3 to 5 minutes, turning once. Serve with Mustard Sauce: Mix together ½ cup prepared salad mustard, ¼ cup brown sugar and ½ teaspoon ginger.

Makes 50 tidbits.

Lobster Mousse Ring for Ladies

If you're planning a luncheon for the ladies soon, choose a dish that's delicious, unusual and attractive. Make Lobster Mousse Ring, a fluffy round of bits of lobster meat and flavorings with a gelatin base. Crushed double thin saltine crackers add that special subtle flavor. You decorate the ring with slices of cucumber and fill its center with salad greens. Serve with a plate of whole crackers and steaming coffee. Here's how:

Lobster Mousse Ring

6 double thin Sunshine Krispy Crackers
¼ cup cold water
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
½ cup boiling water
1 lb. cooked, chopped or ground lobster meat, 2-lbs., (canned, fresh or frozen)
3 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon grated onion
⅛ teaspoon Tabasco sauce
¼ cup minced parsley
½ cup mayonnaise
½ cup heavy cream, whipped
Whole Sunshine Krispy Crackers

With blender or with rolling pin, crush crackers into coarse crumbs. (There should be about ½ cup.) Set aside. Place cold water in bowl, sprinkle with gelatin and let stand for 5 minutes. Add boiling water and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Let cool. Add lobster meat, crumbs, lemon juice, onion, Tabasco sauce, parsley and mayonnaise; blend well. Fold in whipped cream. Pour into a lightly oiled mold (4-cup capacity). Refrigerate until set. When ready to serve, unmold and garnish center of ring with salad greens. Accompany with a platter of whole crackers. Yield: 4 servings.

Hot Tea Punch For Flapjacks

Flapjacks, griddle cakes, pancakes — call 'em what you will — everyone loves 'em. So why not make them the focal point of an informal do-it-yourself party? Set everything out buffet-style — the electric griddle, a pitcher of pancake batter, and bowls of toppings. In place of the usual maple syrup, try various fruit mixtures: whole cranberry sauce combined with chopped bananas and a little grated orange rind; crushed pineapple with sliced almonds or chopped walnuts; apple sauce perked up with ground cinnamon or cloves.

To go with the flapjacks, serve a hot tea punch. This one is aromatic with spices, keeps well atop a candle-warmer or electric hot plate.

Tea Fling

1 quart boiling water
8 teaspoons tea or 8 teabags
½ cup sugar
2 lemons
2 oranges
½ teaspoon cinnamon
4 whole cloves

Pour boiling water over tea and let brew for 5 minutes. Strain into teapot or carafe. Add sugar, juice of the lemons and oranges, cinnamon and cloves. Stir well. Reheat over very low heat, but do not boil. Serve with clove-studded lemon slices or cinnamon stick muddlers.

Marinade Assists California Salad

There is such a wide variety of fruits and vegetables available today that delicious salads of all shapes and styles can be whipped up in no time at all. An increasingly popular salad ingredient is marinated mushrooms, which add a gourmet touch with little expense and preparation. The mushrooms, marinated in oil, vinegar and seasonings, serve a dual purpose. The marinade makes a perfect base for the dressing and gives a subtle lift to the salad. The mushrooms, delicious by themselves, add flavor and nourishment that is sure to please the family.

California Salad
(Makes 6 to 8 Servings)

1 jar (6 ounces) Shady Oak Marinated Mushrooms
3 medium grapefruit
1 ripe avocado, sliced
1 small head lettuce, torn
2 cups torn chicory
1 large red apple, sliced

Drain mushrooms, reserving marinade. Section grapefruit, reserving ⅓ cup of the juice. Combine grapefruit juice with marinade and toss with remaining ingredients.

Sherry-Sunshine Salad for Dieter

Capture some sunshine in wintertime menus through liberal use of vitamin C-rich citrus fruits, such as the orange. Partially due to long exposure to sunlight, oranges rank as an extraordinarily good source of vitamin C, as much as 224 milligrams per pound of fresh orange juice.

Calorie counters can rejoice in the fact that citrus fruits carry a modest calorie tab . . . a medium orange, 70 calories; half a medium grapefruit, 75 calories. The Sherry Sunshine Salad, presented here, is a delight to the palate, and an especial joy for weight watchers. In the development of this recipe, particular consideration was given to eliminating all unnecessary "empty" calories which provide little, if any, nutritive value. In place of sugar, the calorie-free sweetener, Sucaryl, was used to provide natural-tasting sweetness minus the calories. Note that in this delectably sweet, orange-flavored treat, total calories have been slashed nearly in half.

Sherry Sunshine Salad
(Low-Calorie)

3 envelopes unflavored gelatin
½ cup cold water
1½ cups apple juice
2 cups Sucaryl-sweetened gingerale
1½ cups orange juice
½ cup sherry
2 tablespoons Sucaryl solution
½ cup orange sections
1 cup banana slices
⅓ cup avocado, cubed

In large mixer bowl, soften gelatin in cold water. Bring apple juice to a boil; add to gelatin, stirring to dissolve. Add gingerale, orange juice, sherry and Sucaryl; chill until mixture begins to thicken. Add orange sections, banana slices and cubed avocado. Spoon into an 8-cup mold; chill until set. Makes 10 servings, each 91 calories; 3 grams protein; 1.5 grams fat; 15 grams carbohydrate. (With sugar 177 calories.)

Guava Beans

For an unusual sweet-sour salad, drain canned cut Blue Lake green beans. Chill beans in a sauce of vinegar and guava or crab apple jelly. Serve in western iceberg lettuce cups.

PARTY DIP

Try a new dip at your next party. Puree western iceberg lettuce with a little Sherry wine. Blend in canned chicken spread and softened cream cheese.

TONIGHT'S SUPPER-IN-A-BOWL

In saucepan, brown 1 can (4 ounces) sliced mushrooms (drained) and cook ½ cup chopped onion in 2 tablespoons butter or margarine until tender. Stir in 2 cans (11¼ ounces each) condensed split pea with ham soup; blend in 2 soup cans water. Add 1 cup cubed cooked lamb, 1 cup cooked small white onions, 2 tablespoons chopped pimiento, and ¼ teaspoon dried mint leaves. Heat; stir now and then. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Mapping New Plans

(Post-Times Photo)

Cancer Group Reviews Aims

(Editor's Note: The Daly City Auxiliary to the American Cancer Society will wind up its first six months of volunteer projects this month. In this article, Ernestine Tierney, publicity chairman of the group, tells of the Auxiliary's work and objectives.)

By ERNESTINE TIERNEY

WHAT WILL you do if you or a loved one suddenly discovers in 1966 that cancer has struck? Your chances of getting it are one in four.

A horrible thought with which to start a new year, but, before this year ends, you may be a cancer statistic, or a member of your family, or a friend, or an acquaintance.

When it strikes, can you tell yourself you did everything possible to educate yourself and your family with the seven danger signals?

The American Cancer Society (ACS) urges you to have a medical checkup annually no matter how well you feel; to learn cancer's seven danger signals and to go to your doctor immediately if any of them lasts longer than two weeks.

They include: (1) unusual bleeding or discharge; (2) a lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere; (3) a sore that does not heal; (4) change in bowel or bladder habits; (5) hoarseness or cough; (6) indigestion or difficulty in swallowing and (7) change in wart or mole.

LATE IN July of 1965, several Daly City women who had worked as volunteers for the San Mateo Branch of the ACS joined forces to form the Daly City Auxiliary to the ACS.

Their purpose? To help educate the community to cancer's seven danger signals by means of educational films available to any group or club in our community upon request.

Any organization in Daly City wishing to have a film showing may contact the education chairman, Mrs. Louis Giusti of 9 Castillejo Drive, Daly City, WY 2-0628.

Mrs. Giusti will arrange a film showing with a doctor in attendance to answer questions after the film.

Another phase of the Auxiliary's program is a transportation corps to aid cancer patients who have transportation problems in visiting their doctors or the hospital for treatment.

The ACS maintains a Loan Closet that loans dressings, hospital beds, wheelchairs, crutches, and most any medical item needed at home for the cancer patient.

Anything borrowed from the "Loan Closet" is free of charge to any cancer patient — no matter what his financial situation.

Anyone interested in more information about the loan closet and transportation may contact the service chairman, Mrs. John Leonard at 79 Santa Elena Avenue, Daly City, PL 6-4189.

The next meeting of the auxiliary will be held at the home of its president , Mrs. Max Wahl, 39 Park Manor Drive, Daly City, PL 5-5495, at 10 a.m., Monday, January 24.

Persons interested in joining the auxiliary are urged to attend.

Jefferson Group Holds a Luncheon

The executive board of the Jefferson Elementary School P-TA held a luncheon last week in honor of the school faculty.

Chairman for the affair was Mrs. Hilda Wilby.

She was assisted by President Mrs. Juanita Perada and members of the executive board.

Sisterhood Plans Show

"Smart Designs for Valentines," is the theme of the fashion show now being planned by the sister of Congregation B'nai Israel.

The ladies of the sisterhood will model a variety of styles furnished by The Fashion of Westlake while the male members of the congregation will model men's fashions of the New England Shop in Westlake.

The event is scheduled for Thursday, February 10, at 8:30 p.m. at the Lake Merced Boathouse, San Francisco.

Chairman of the affair, Mrs. Leon Levy, urges everyone to make reservations early.

Sandwiches, jello molds, cake and beverages will be served and valuable prizes will be given away. Donation is $1.75 and the public is invited.

The proceeds of this function will go to Camp Ramah Scholarship Fund.

Westview Unit Sets A Meeting

The Westview P-TA will hold their first meeting in 1966 on Monday in the multi-purpose room of the Westview School. Coffee will be served starting at 7:30 p.m. with the meeting following at 8 p.m.

A special film entitled "A Quarter of a Million Teenagers" will be presented. This film deals with venereal diseases and teenagers. This film was procured from the County Health Department. After the film there will be a member of the County Medical Society to answer questions. In attendance there will be Mrs. Mabel S. Rickett, State Bureau of Venereal Diseases, as technical consultant, a doctor from the San Mateo County Medical Association, and Mrs. Josephine Eastman, Laguna Salada School nurse, also as medical consultants.

Mrs. Barbara Rowell ,president, announces that if the parents attending the meeting wish to have a duplicate program scheduled for their children to view the film, have their questions answered by a doctor, and be given pamphlets on VD to take home, they will have the opportunity to say so Monday night. Then the P-TA will be happy to contact school authorities and arrange for another evening showing on a permission slip basis. The repeat performance will be for those who are in the seventh and eighth grades and high school students in the Westview community.

P-TA Events

Crocker Pershing Unit Hears Two Guest Speakers

At last week's unit meeting of the Crocker-Pershing P-TA, the members heard guest speakers, Superintendent Frank Greenwood and Superintendent Edward Morgan, speak on issues of the upcoming bond election.

After hearing from both superintendents, the members voted unit endorsement of a "yes" vote in the January 25 bond election.

Mrs. Shelby Hartman, honorary life membership chairman, named members of the committee to pick the recipient of the unit's honorary life membership award to be presented on February 8.

The committee members are: Mrs. Al Parodi, Mrs. Wesley Petersen, Mrs. John Laiosa, Mrs. Walter Couzens and Glen Forcum and Dr. Bernhard Gerdes, principals will act as advisors to the committee.

The election of the nominating committee was held and the following were elected to serve: Mrs. Emmitt Galvin, Mrs. John Sillivas, Mrs. Millie Pederson, Mrs. Walter Couzens and Mrs. Al Parodi.

Dr. Bernhard Gerdes and Mr. Glen Forcum will serve as advisors to this committee.

FDR Unit To Hear Coltrell

Richard Coltrell, administrative assistant to the superintendent of the Jefferson High School District, will address a meeting of the Franklin D. Roosevelt School P-TA at 8 p.m. Thursday night.

He will discuss the bond election that will be jointly held by the Jefferson Elementary and High School Districts Tuesday, January 25.

Fernando Rivera Unit Will Meet

The Fernando Rivera P-TA will meet Tuesday at 1:15 p.m. in the multi-use room of the school.

The unit's discussion topic is scheduled to be: "Your Child and Learning."

Lawrence Sheppard, guidance and research director of Jefferson Elementary School District and Miss Sally Galway, a sixth grade teacher, will present and lead the discussion.

John Griffiths, program chairman, feels that this is one of the most unusual programs of the school year.

YW-Wives Will Host 'The Post's' Food Columnist

The YWCA YW-Wives will welcome Post foods' columnist Mrs. Nell Norton at their meeting at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

Thursday is "YW-Wives Day" at St. Martin's Episcopal Church at 777 Southgate Avenue, Daly City.

Child care is available, so mothers can be free to enjoy the program, conversation, and refreshments.

Future program for the YW-Wives will include a demonstration on millinery by Suzanne Millet, a speaker from the Heart Association and a tour of historic Mission Dolores.

CITY to Hold Monthly Meeting Tomorrow at 8

C.I.T.Y. (Community Interaction Through You) will hold their monthly meeting tomorrow at 8 p.m.

Robert Hines, representative of the Human Resource Commission in San Mateo County along with Larry Sheppard of the Jefferson Elementary School Board and Samuel Miller, Psychiatric Social Worker of the San Mateo County Mental Health Center will speak briefly on the Anti-Poverty Program.

The major portion of the meeting will be devoted to an open discussion by the audience concerning the Anti-Poverty Program and how it can be implemented in Daly City.

TIME FLIES by at a fast clip and so it is that while we are still trying to get the last of the pine needles out of the rug and attempting to find a place to store all the new toys and assorted bric-a-brac, the first hints of Easter's impending approach are in the air.

The members of the Our Lady of Perpetual Help parish are hard at the task of preparing for a Mardi Gras celebration, according to Mrs. Dorothy Bergin, publicity chairman.

Localities who find it won't be convenient to journey to New Orleans for the festival there can enjoy loads of fun and win prizes galore while assisting the Our Lady of Perpetual Help Parish Improvement fund grow.

According to Mrs. Bergin, Mardi Gras Days will be February 18, 19, and 20 and the celebration is being planned to appeal to young in years as well as the young at heart.

THE DALY CITY Community Chorus will begin to prepare for its musical salute to the founders of the P-TA in America, Songs of the Guilded Age, during a special session tomorrow.

According to chorus director, Mrs. Patti Stolz, rehearsals and fittings will begin at 8 p.m. in the Westmoor Park Clubhouse for the first performance scheduled for Monte Verde School on Thursday, February 3.

Subsequent performances are scheduled for Jefferson Elementary School on February 10, Garden Village School on February 17 and Franklin D. Roosevelt School on February 24.

According to Mrs. Stolz arrangments have been completed by Charles Vincent director of recreation in Daly City, to have the Stanyon Street Cyclery donate the use of a 1910 tandem bicycle for use in all the shows, a delightful touch which is bound to add to the charm of the whole marvelous production. (If you have never seen this show don't miss this year's performances!)

AND CHURCH ACTIVITIES OF DALY CITY, COLMA, PACIFICA AND SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO

Church Of Christ Sets Radio Show

The Peninsula Church of Christ, Walter E. Stram, minister, meeting in Olivet Chapel in Colma, will sponsor "The Christians' Hour" on KFAX Radio, 1100 on the dial, at 11:15 a.m. Saturday.

The "Christians' Hour" has presented 1,193 continuous weekly broadcasts since March, 1943. It is now heard by more than two million people weekly on more than 70 radio stations in the nation.

This program is strictly nondenominational in nature, says Stram. Its purpose is to proclaim the world of God, and seek to restore original Biblical Christianity.

The program is produced and taped in Cincinnati, Ohio, by speakers and choir who serve without remuneration. The messages are by Dr. Ard Hoven, an Oregon minister of the Tabernacle Christian Church, Columbus, Ind.

The music is provided by E. Wayne Berry and his choir.

Harold Hockley, minister of the Westwood Cheviot Church of Christ in Cincinnati, is the announcer, and Hugh Sensibaugh, minister of the Lockland Christian Church, Cincinnati, is president of the broadcasting group.

The Peninsula Church of Christ and interested friends are glad to sponsor this program, and heartily urge everyone in the KFAX listening area to listen in.

Supervisor Will Visit Witnesses

Arden B. Stutler, district supervisor of Jehovah's Witnesses in Northern California and Southern Oregon, will visit the Pacifica Congregation tomorrow.

As a feature of his visit there will be a free two-hour technicolor film shown at Kingdom Hall at 500 Ebken Street at 7:30 p.m.

The film is entitled, "Proclaiming Everlasting Good News Around the World," and the public is invited.

Edward R. Sheehan, presiding minister, said that scenes from 22 countries and 36 cities will be shown. Film showings have already been made in cities all over this country as well as Asia, South America and Africa.

Stutler is a travelling representative of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York and is in the area to direct the activity and serve as principal speaker at the three-day training conference beginning Friday at the Scottish Rite Auditorium in San Francisco.

About 120 from the Pacifica Congregation will be delegates to the gathering.

B'nai Israel Sets Service

At Friday evening services Friday at 8:15 p.m. Congregation B'nai Israel, 1575 Annie Street, Colma, will be hosts to the Golden Gate Chapter of B'nai B'rith which is presided by Mr. Harry Spatz, president, and Mr. Harry Gluckman, past president.

It is a new project of this chapter to visit a different temple each month at Friday evening services and Congregation B'nai Israel is proud to have been selected as the first temple on this new venture.

Hostesses for oneg shabbath this evening following the services are Mrs. Raymond Clarfield and Mrs. Philip Frucht.

Saturday morning services are held each and every Saturday at 10 a.m. in our new sanctuary.

Youth Is Panel Topic At Center

"Our Youth in Rebellion" is the topic of a panel discussion to take place at the Brotherhood Way Jewish Community Center at 7:30 p.m. Sunday evening, according to an announcement by Melvin H. Lichtman, center vice president and chairman of the event.

The occasion is the first annual meeting, at which the new center's board of directors will be elected by the membership and installed by Jesse Feldman, vice president of the United Jewish Community Centers, the agency's parent body.

Discussing the topic will be: Attorney Patrick Hallinan, who has been active in defense of college students prosecuted for sit-ins and other demonstrations; Alvin Wolf, teacher of social studies at Westmoor High School in Daly City, and Dr. George Karonsky, assistant principal of Herbert Hoover Junior High School in San Francisco since 1959.

New Temple Dedicated

Three-Day Program Set

The Rev. Paul Coleman has announced that a special Fatima Triduum will be conducted in St. Veronica's Church, South San Francisco at 8 tonight, tomorrow and Friday nights.

With the blessing of Archbishop Joseph McGucken, Msgr. William C. McGrath will continue the nineteenth year of an uninterrupted Pilgrim Virgin Tour that so far has visited 125 dioceses in the United States.

The purpose of this pilgrimage is to enlist as many people as possible in a crusade of prayer and reparation for world peace, the conversion of Russia and personal spiritual welfare, church officials said.

Enshrined in the sanctuary during the three days will be the Pilgrim Virgin Statue.

Bethlehem Lutheran Church Observes Youth Sunday

Youth Sunday was observed at Bethlehem Lutheran Church Sunday.

At both worship services the young people who conducted the liturgy and gave the sermon were: Maureen Leep, Verlein Reutzel, Steele Spengler, and Vickie Scurzi.

The purpose of Youth Sunday is to give special emphasis to the church's ministry to youth and provide an opportunity for the teen-agers to testify to their faith in Christ before the adults.

A special adult-youth panel discussion was held at 10 a.m. with Bill Spengler as moderator.

Other adults on the panel were Bill Lund, Mrs. Carole Schmitt and Mrs. Dorothy Place. Some of the tensions between youth and adults were discussed.

This Sunday the Bethlehem congregation will hold its annual meeting.

It will begin with a family potluck at 5 p.m. Entertainment will be provided for the youth while the adults conduct the business session.

Rent-Car Permit Approved in D.C.

The Daly City Planning Commission last week approved a rent-a-car operation at a gas station but indicated it could not approve an application for the same operation at a second station owned by the applicant.

Permission to operate the rent-a-car businesses had been sought by Fred Tautenhahn for his Shell Service Stations at 2001 Junipero Serra Boulevard and at 505 Skyline Drive.

The commission approved the Junipero Serra operation, noting that the area is zoned entirely commercial, but indicated that it could not authorize the Skyline Drive business because the station is surrounded on three sides by a residential area.

Tautenhahn argued that he didn't expect to have any more than two rent-a-cars parked on the Skyline station lot at any time.

His attorney, David Friedenberg, suggested that the commission could place a limit on the number of rent-a-cars to be kept at the station.

Tautenhahn claimed that the business would be a service to residents of the Skyline area whose cars broke down or were stolen.

The commission, however, said that because of the residential nature of the surrounding area, the gasoline station's operations should not be expanded.

Commission members suggested that the Junipero Serra station is close enough to the Skyline area so that rent-a-cars kept there could be delivered to customers in the Skyline area.

Tautenhahn then withdrew his application for the Skyline station.

After considerable discussion, the commission approved a 25-foot building setback along the east side of San Fernando Way from Sullivan Avenue to the westerly side of the Calvary Cross Lutheran Church property.

The city plans to widen San Fernando Way in the future.

Originally, the city proposed to extend the 25-foot setback farther west.

However, Chris McKeon, owner of two small lots west of the church, protested to the commission that the setback would be a hindrance to development of the property. The present setback is 10 feet.

City Engineer Arthur Reschke reported that this limitation would provide a better design for the widening of San Fernando.

In other action, the commission:

Approved an application from the Regal Oldsmobile Company of San Francisco for three non-illuminated signs for a car lot at 1255 Mission Street.

Deferred action again on an application for a controversial coin-operated car wash at 999 Hillside Boulevard, near Colma School.

The commission is awaiting an opinion from City Attorney Paul Hupf on a clarification of the city's zoning ordinances as they apply to car wash businesses.

Deferred action again on an application by Friedenberg to build an office building in a multiple-dwelling (R-3) area between Eighty-ninth and Ninetieth Streets, west of Sullivan Avenue.

Friedenberg has applied for a rezoning of the area, it was reported, so that a Title Insurance Company would be permitted to move into the proposed building.

Digging In for a New Building

Pacifica Group Is Formed To Provide Peace Forum

A new group, designed to provide Pacifica residents with a forum for the discussion of urgent social and political matters, has been organized.

The group, calling themselves "Pacificans for Human Concern," commends the present peace efforts of the United States and "expresses concern that if these efforts fail escalation of the war will continue," according to Mrs. Frances Power, president.

She said that although concern about United States involvement in Viet Nam is the main interest of her organization at present, the group hopes to give Pacificans "an opportunity to become informed, to think clearly and to express themselves freely on other matters of human concern, such as:

Peace, civil liberties, racial "justice," capital punishment, and poverty.

Parents Will Pay For Children's False Alarms

Parents are going to be held responsible for false fire alarms turned in by their children, South San Francisco Fire Chief John Marchi said last week.

His city has been troubled by a series of false alarms since Christmas.

Usually, the alarms come in series of three, and sometimes there are two or three such series daily. Assistant Fire Chief Al Brauns reported that the false alarms cost taxpayers as much as $75 to $100 per call.

After a series of three, Chief Marchi reported:

"From the evidence and leads we've gathered, these alarms were pulled by young children riding bikes from box to box.

"These children surely know the seriousness of pulling false alarms, as the Fire Department, in co-operation with all the schools, conducts a year-round program of teaching children to prevent fires and not to pull the alarm boxes unless there is really a fire.

THOMAS C. LYNCH
Will Speak

Thomas C. Lynch Set To Speak Today at Luncheon

California's Attorney General Thomas C. Lynch will be guest speaker at today's luncheon meeting of the Democratic Business and Professional Group of San Mateo County, starting at noon in the Benjamin Franklin Hotel in San Mateo.

"The attorney general's visit will provide a firsthand report on current problems and programs of law enforcement from the state's chief law officer," stated Daniel J. Monaco, San Mateo attorney, chairman of the sponsoring group.

Attorney General Lynch serves as a member of President Johnson's Crime Commission to which he was appointed in 1965.

While San Francisco's district attorney, 1951-1964, Lynch was a principal advisor to the California Crime Commission, and during many years on the law and legislative committee of the District Attorneys Association, he worked closely with the State Legislature.

Early public life included nine years as assistant U.S. attorney, Northern California, followed by eight years as chief assistant district attorney for San Francisco.

Seedlings Of Trees to Be Distributed

Pacifica residents who missed the opportunity to obtain evergreen tree seedlings January 8 will be able t obtain trees Saturday, January 22, from 9 to 11:30 a.m.

Distribution will be made in front of the Pacifica Corporation Yard Office, which is located on the corner of Palmetto and Montecito Avenues in the Sharp Park District.

Trees available this year include the Monterey Pine and the Arizona Cypress.

The Park, Beach and Recreation Department requests that a minimum donation of two cents per seedling be made in order to cover the cost of purchase.

This annual offering of evergreen seedlings is of one-year-old stock, which is approximately 8 to 12 inches in height. The seedlings have been grown in the state forestry nurseries in the Santa Cruz Mountains and are considered desirable for growth conditions in Pacifica.

It is intended that these trees be utilized primarily for open space planting, particularly on the slopes, for the purpose of windbreaks; retardation of soil erosion and general beautification.

FAMILY LIFE
OF NORTH COUNTY
DALY CITY — PACIFICA — COLMA — SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO

Pacific Heights Group To Hear Talk on Earth Fault

M. G. "Doc" Bonilla a geologist with the U. S. Geological Survey in Menlo Park will talk on "The San Andreas Fault" at a Pacific Heights Association meeting at 7:30 p.m. next Wednesday in the Pacific Heights School at 3791 Pacific Heights Boulevard, San Bruno.

Bonilla, a former Millbrae resident, has been doing geological mapping on the Northern Peninsula since 1947. He also has studied earthquakes in Alaska and active faults in Nevada.

D.C. Auxiliary Offers Services Year-Round

The Daly City Auxiliary of the American Cancer Society, a newly created branch of the ACS, now offers its services to the North County year round.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Max Wahl of 39 Park Manor Drive, president, the unit offers transportation, sick-room services, information and education and a variety of other benefits to interested parties.

For information on transportation, persons may call Mrs. John Leonard of 79 Santa Elena Street, Daly City, at PL 6-4189.

Film showings to any interested group, club or organization can be arranged by calling Mrs. Louis Giusti of 9 Castillejo Drive, Daly City, 992-0628.

Mrs. Wahl may be contacted at PL 5-5495 for information on any of these services.

Sisterhood Of B'nai Israel To Hold Goods Sale

The Sisterhood of Congregation B'nai Israel will hold its annual Rummage Sale on Tuesday, February 1, 1966 at the House of Parties, 22 Hillcrest Drive, Daly City, from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

New and nearly new clothes, toys, shoes, linens, jewelry, appliances, etc. will be on sale with something for everyone in the family.

Rummage is still being collected by the chairman of this sale, Mrs. Julius Michaelis, and if you have any rummage you wish to donate, call her at PL 6-7316 or PL 6-9904 and arrangements will be made for pick-up.

Nu Sigma Unit Sets Its Next Business Meet

The cultural program, Literature, from the book of Happiness will be presented by Mrs. Paul Smith and Mrs. Harold Stein.

Mrs. Paul Kiel announces a mix social will be held on Saturday at 7 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Thomas Eichner, 370 El Dorado Drive.

The theme "Little bit of old Italy" will be carried out in the decor for this dinner party. The social committee is busy locating authentic wine bottles, checkered table cloths and other appropriate decorations for this affair.

The menu consisting of home-cooked dishes such as tossed salad, antipasto, spaghetti and meat balls, garlic bread, imported wine and deserts will be served and prepared in advance by the social committee.

Pacifica Moose Club Starts Class

The Pacifica Moose Dance Club, started last spring, invites beginners who want to learn ballroom dancing to come to the hall in Vallemar at 7:30 P.M. Monday and others who want to learn the popular dances to come at 8.

Hadassah Group To Meet Friday

Westlake Group of Hadassah will hold its regular meeting at 1:30 Friday morning at Temple Nen Tamid in San Francisco.

It will be a joint-meeting with Lakeside Group of Hadassah.

Luncheon will be served at $1.25 per person.

Guest speaker will be Mrs. Oscar Lozabnick and her topic will be "Hadassah Means L'Chayim."

Hadassah Women To Hear Speaker

Mrs. Stanley Fisher, president of Westlake Group of Hadassah, announces their regular monthly meeting will be held on Wednesday, January 21, 1966.

It will be a joint meeting with Lakeside Group of Hadassah at Temple Ner Tamid, Twenty-second and Quintara in San Francisco. Luncheon will be served at 11:30 a.m. for $1.25 per person.

B'nai B'rith Unit Holds Cake Sale

Skyline Chapter B'nai B'rith Women will sponsor a cake sale at 10 Friday morning in front of the QFI Market on Alemany Blvd., San Francisco.

CIDER FOR BASTING

Pacifica Players To Hold Tryouts

The Pacifica Players will hold tryouts for their next play, "The Irregular Verb—To Love," at 8 tomorrow night at Oddstad Center in Linda Mar.

Roles to be cast include those for five men and four women.

Especially needed, according to group officials, are a mature Negro woman and a young girl and man of about 25 years of age who can converse in Greek.

CRABMEAT PIES

Spoon hot creamed crabmeat into baking shells; top with crushed cracker crumbs mixed with melted butter and brown the topping under the broiler. This dish makes a delightful luncheon course when served with a green salad.

Terra Nova Topics

By MARIA MONTENEGRO

PACIFICA FOREIGN STUDENT Exchange Week, January 17-23, was proclaimed by Mayor James Fox at last Wednesday night's city council meeting.

The mayor introduced Anne-Marie Galopin, French exchange student attending Oceana this year, who spoke expressing how glad she was to be here. The mayor, in turn, expressed how glad the community was to have her.

The main event of this week was also announced. It is sponsored by Pacifica's Foreign Student Exchange Program, which is working to bring a foreign student to Terra Nova next year and, hopefully, send a TN student abroad.

To be held this Saturday, January 22, at 6 p.m., it is "Beans 'n' Jeans," acombination all-you-can-eat dinner and talent show to be held at both Oceana and Terra Nova on the same night. The two schools are engaged in a friendly war to see which can sell the most tickets.

Mayor Fox will serve as honorary host at Terra Nova while Vice Mayor Grace McCarthy hosts at Oceana.

M.C.'s for the show are KYA disc jockeys Johnny Holliday at T.N., and Ed Hider at Oceana.

Tickets can be obtained from the school of your choice (preferably T.N.), or at the door of each school on the night of the dinner for $1.50 for high schoolers and adults, $1 for elementary school children, with admission free to pre-schoolers. Tickets for just the show, which starts at 8 p.m., may be obtained at the door for half the price of regular ones.

Anyone living in the Terra Nova area who wishes to give a home to next year's exchange student please contact Mr. Dick Ault at 355-3695 by February 1.

T.N.'s INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB is preparing for February 10's Model UN to be held at the UC Berkeley campus. It is an annual event in which schools representing various countries participate.

Long Range View Urged For C of C

A chamber of commerce should take a long range point of view to give a continuity of growth, Don Fultz, manager of the greater Santa Cruz Chamber of Commerce, told the Pacifica chamber at its monthly luncheon Thursday at the Vagabond Chuck Wagon.

Fultz reviewed 50 years of chamber work in Santa Cruz and cited the city's yacht harbor as one example of projects the chamber has promoted.

In regard to the long run outlook, he declared: "Too many people are working for today in the community and not looking ahead."

New members introduced at the meeting were: Bob Peterson, Bob's Shell Service; Glen Williams, William's Electric; John Meyer, Meyer Realty; and Marvin Schneider, Marc Realty.

Louise Cerri, Louise's Store; Guy Falchi, Guy's Italian Dinner; Charles Pauka, Shelter Cove; Henry Ebert and Ed Houg, Eureka Barber Shop, and George Edsell, Edsell Realty & Company.

Two examples of co-operation between the chamber and the city were discussed at the meeting — a new Greyhound turnaround bus stop in Pedro Point, and zoning considerations for small lots.

VFW Post Set for D.C.

A new Veterans of Foreign Wars Post is being organized in Westlake, according to an announcement made by Alva J. Fleming, National Extension Service assistant director.

Oldest of all the major veterans organizations in the country, the VFW has 1.3 million members enrolled in its organization.

The membership of the VFW is made up of veterans who have served in the armed forces of the United States and overseas during time of war.

Veterans of overseas service, who are interested in joining the Veterans of Foreign Wars as a charter member of the new post which is being organized in Westlake may call Robert Burton at 755-1635 (after 6 p.m.) or write to him at 204 Woodrow Street, Daly City, for further information.

Baptists Set A Study Hour

Tonight at 7:45, the prayer and Bible study hour of the Westside Baptist Church will be held at the Roy King home at 427 San Anselmo, Apartment No. 2, San Bruno.

Tomorrow at 9:30 a.m., the women's Bible class will meet at the home of Mrs. Clayton Anderson of 3691 Exeter Drive, San Bruno. Mrs. Robert Anderson is the teacher, and is presently teaching the book of Romans.

They Silently Slipped Away

Students from civic classes at Terra Nova and Oceana High Schools attended the Pacifica City Council meeting last Weednesday night, eagerly hoping to hear a lively session since the agenda covered everything from bomb threat policies to a much-debated zoning ordinance.

More than an hour after the meeting started, however, councilmen and planning comissioners were still discussing a tentative map for Park Pacifica.

Finally, one by one, each student folded his note book and slipped away, slightly disillusioned with city council meetings in general and this one in particular.

Coast Group Offer Funds For Building

The Fairmont Subdivision Improvement Association has written the Pacifica Park, Beach and Recreation Department that it would like to contribute the money, in addition to whatever the city and the Doelger Corporation would provide, for a building in Fairmont Park.

The Park, Beach and Recreation Department recommended to the City Council that the contribution be accepted.

The department also moved to accept a proposed ordinance governing park dedications by developers. The lot fee ordinance authorizes city recreation departments to require builders to include parks or be assessed a fee for park development.

Youngster Hit By Car

A 5-year-old Daly City boy suffered minor cuts on his hands and upper lip and the loss of a front tooth when he was struck by a car at Palmdale and Southgate Avenues in Daly City about 8:30 a.m. Thursday.

The boy, Fred Lee, of 53 Fairview Avenue, was treated at Mary's Help Hospital.

The driver of the car was identified as Gloria Y. Kraal, 35, of 54 Palmdale.

She told police that she was turning into Palmdale from Southgate and became blinded by the sun.

SWEATER STOLEN

John Scott of 63 Castleton Avenue, Daly City, reported to police last week that a red cardigan sweater had been stolen from his auto, parked in front of his house.

Lutherans Will Hold Discussion

The new book, "Reluctant Revolution," by Dr. Arnold Come, professor at San Francisco Presbyterian Seminary, will be studied and discussed by the Adult Discussion Group of Westlake Lutheran Church at 8 o'clock Tuesday night.

The group will meet at the home of Pastor and Mrs. Kenneth D. Hansen, 87 Ocean Grove Avenue, Daly City.

The group will concern itself with the question, "How can I discern enduring values and relate them to the ways we live together in an urban dominated world?"

This discussion group, which meets each month, was formed to provide Christian adults with the opportunity to examine and discuss contemporary problems and trends in the light of the Christian faith.

Congregation Meeting Set By Lutherans

Members of Hope Lutheran Church will hold their annual congregational meeting at the church at 55 San Fernando Way in Daly City at 7:30 tonight.

Among the items of business to be discussed and decided upon during this meeting will be the plans and details for the new parish hall scheduled for construction in the early part of this year. Al Wilson, chairman of the building committee, will lead the discussion concerning this project.

Plans and programs of the congregation for 1966 will also be presented by the chairmen of the various other boards and committees during this meeting.

Stress will be placed on the areas of evangelism, education and youth activities.

Chairman of the evangelism committee is Scott Vanderbur, and Bruce Desmond heads the board of education. Youth counselors are Mr. and Mrs. Scott Vanderbur.

THEFTS REPORTED

John Stockton of 678 Commercial Street, South San Francisco, reported to police over the weekend that two suits, a sweater, and a camera had been stolen from his auto, parked in a supermarket lot on Junipero Serra Boulevard.

New Store Opens

CONGRATULATING Christopher Mogannan, left, owner of Chris' Shoes, is Jack Kendee, managing director of the Skyline Plaza Shopping Center. Chris' Shoes is one of six new stores which have opened in the shopping center. The center now offers 25 diversified reta il store outlets. To celebrate the openings, the center will hold drawings for $2,000 worth of prizes. Four drawings are scheduled, 8 and 8:30 tonight and Friday night. Entry tickets are available at any center store. New Interchange Proposal Made by Coast Road Group

A new proposal for an interchange between State Route 186 and the Coast Highway will be submitted to the State Highway Division, according to Kenneth Strom, chairman of the Pacifica Highway Committee.

The plan, which received enthusiastic endorsement by the committee at its meeting last week, would save valuable beach frontage.

Three previous plans, one of which was submitted by the Ideal Cement Company, would have cut into undeveloped land near the beach, south of the Sharp Park Golf Course and Mori's Point.

Pacifica City Engineer Kenneth Thompson will submit a map of the new Route 186 interchange proposal to the State Highway division.

"An interchange on the beach side of the highway," Strom added, "would cut off beach access in this area and limit pedestrian and local use. Our plan would preserve the area for future development."

BATTERY TAKEN

Virginia Gervais of San Francisco reported to police over the weekend that a battery had been stolen from her auto while it was parked in a lot in the Westlake Shopping Center.

Couple Gets The Bird

A Daly City couple got the bird Sunday—quite literally.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Warner of 56 Fairlawn Court had been hearing "odd noises" emanating from the chimney of their home for three days when they finally decided to take a look and find the cause.

"We thought it must be those famous roof rats," said Mrs. Warner, "but we found out differently."

Her husband climbed onto the roof and found the cause of the scratching and clawing sounds: a trapped pigeon, with the aid of a hook and ladder, rescued the beleaguered fowl.

ALEMANY BLVD.

Pay Less Plans Store Near D.C.

The San Francisco Board of Supervisors has voted, 7 to 4, to rezone a portion of Alemany Boulevard, near Daly City, and allow Pay Less Stores to build a large new multi-department store complex, complete with landscaped plazas and rooftop parking.

According to William Gherra, president of Pay Less Stores, the plan previously won approval from the San Francisco Planning Commission and also received favorable approval of a rezoning of the project area from two-family to residential.

Gherra said the completed plan will project a 7½-acre retail store development between Alemany Boulevard, Southern Freeway, Worcester Avenue and St. Charles and Panama Streets.

Designed by architects Harrada & Meu, the new Pay Less shopping complex will provide not only a 95,000 square foot shopping center and parking for 650 cars, but will include a park-like rest area and a corner plaza in the ground level off-street parking sections of the development.

"We do not intend to surround these stores with a sea of asphalt," Gherra said, "but rather we will create a park air which will be a delight to the eye."

According to Thomas E. Feeney, attorney for Pay Less, a comprehensive survey report by the Urban Research and Development Company has indicated that a critical economic need exists for an outlet catering to modest-income families in the new development area.

The report also says the site is ideally located with respect to smooth traffic patterns and adequate parking facilities.

The new store will be the largest in the Pay Less drug chain and will represent an investment of approximately $4-million, Gherra said.

It is scheduled to open early in 1967. Pay Less operates 14 stores in the East Bay, the San Jose and Sacramento areas and in Fresno and Stockton.

Approval Of Park Plans Is Requested

The Pacifica City Council has been asked by the North Coast Water District to endorse plans for the purchase of a wilderness park.

Harland Hill, manager of the water district, said that the city presently has the water rights but the district wishes to preserve them and save the land as a water shed. A spring in the area, he said, would be used as an emergency water supply.

The land, although not in Pacifica at present, could ultimately become part of Pacifica and be developed as a park, Hill noted. He said the federal government would provide 50 per cent and the county 25 per cent of the funds toward purchase if the two agencies approve the plans.

New Kiwanis Leader Picked

Ed Richenbacher, Noe Valley District and South San Francisco Real Estate broker, was installed as lieutenant governor of Division 17 of California, Nevada, Hawaii District, International Kiwanis, Saturday night by Ray Weymouth, past governor of the district.

New Building Shows Drop In Pacifica

New construction in Pacifica for 1965 was half that of the previous year, according to figures from the office of the building inspector, Richard Taylor.

Value of new construction for 1965 was $7.9-million, compared to $14.3-million in 1964, which was considered a "boom year" for Pacifica.

Figures show that 1965 had fewer permits issued for commercial buildings and multi-unit apartments.

Two projects that helped boost construction in 1965 were the Karp Properties project and an increase in Challenge Development Company homes.

The Karp Properties at Imperial and Hickey Boulevards near Skyline in Fairmont comprise 18 apartment houses of a Normandy style at a construction cost of around $1-million.

Fire Damages S.S.F. Firm

Hamburgers Are Well Liked, Still Looking For Home

More than 70 million hamburgers are eaten in America every day and about half of them are consumed away from home. Nearly one-third of all the beef raised in this country goes into the grinder and comes out hamburger. Across the country thousands of restaurants and drive-ins have built their business around the quickly prepared and easily served hamburger along with its natural accompaniments the French fry and the milkshake.

But, popular as it is, the hamburger seems to be homeless in food history. For years food books traced the origin to the seaport town of Hamburg, Germany, but the mayor of Hamburg recently declined to accept the honor, saying that wherever this popular sandwich developed, it was not there.

But the hamburger is not without honor in America. In Chicago there is now a National Hamburger Council devoted to the promotion and continued success of this now purely American achievement.

"The mayor of Hamburg can disown us if he wants to," says Frank Thomas, one of the founders of the new industry group and president of a chain of 15-cent hamburger restaurants, "because the present success of team burger is a purely American phenomenon anyway."

The hamburger, Thomas points out, follows much the same pattern of growth as the sandwich. It is a product of a busy people living in fast moving times.

"The automobile alone," he says, "probably is the basis for the consumption of 90 per cent of the hamburgers eaten away from home. People now drive nearly 70 million cars and they go further per trip and have more passengers per car." Thomas, whose some 400 restaurants serve nearly a million hamburgers a day, says that a stationwagon loaded with 10 neighborhood children and one supervising parent is a common sight in today's fast service hamburger restaurant.

Hamburger gets its knocks from a few people, Thomas admits, but a recent study at Southern Illinois University shows that the hamburger—and particularly the cheeseburger—has plenty of nutritional value. Amounts of vitamin A, thiamin, riboflavin, niacin, ascorbic acid, protein, calcium and iron as well as calories were measured by Dr. J. M. Harper who concluded that the meat, bread, cheese and condiments found on a typical serving actually constitute a very well balanced meal. The addition of French fried potatoes and a milkshake round it out nicely.

Part of the hamburger's growing popularity is the fact that it represents the ultimate in casual meals. Both at home and on the road, it is easy to prepare, serve and clean up after. Children like the excitement of going out for hamburgers and while mother may not be flattered by the comparison with her own skills, she too likes the fast service and lack of kitchen mess. The hamburger is a hot meal that is both healthful and enjoyable and besides, mother can leave the dishes behind.

Home Preparation

Thomas, speaking as a restaurant man, would rather you eat all of your hamburgers out, but if you do prepare them at home, he offers this advice from his company's findings in the preparation and service of over a billion hamburgers.

1. Toast the buns on their cut side. This warms them and helps to hold in the hamburger's heat and it also seals the bread so that the meat juices and condiments don't soak in and make it soggy.

2. Pickle, onion, mustard and ketchup are part of the hamburger's flavor. Don't leave them off.

3. Buy hamburger meat with about 20 per cent fat content. Ground chuck is best.

4. Serve hamburgers immediately. Even today's modern high speed restaurants, with the capacity to make thousands of finished burgers an hour, avoid preparing them too far ahead.

Beef Bowl That's Full Of Vitamins

Soup and Sandwich Brunch
Figs with Lemon
Garden Chili Beef Bowl
French Toasted Cheese Sandwiches
Coffee
Cocoa

Roast Pork Dinner
Chilled Boston Tomato Juice
Fresh Pork Roast, Austrian Style
Mushroom Gravy
Baked Sweets or Yams
Apple, Celery, Grape Salad
Chocolate Chiffon Pie
Coffee
Tea

GARDEN CHILI BEEF BOWL
½ cup sliced celery
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 can (1 ounces) condensed chili beef soup
1 soup can water
1 tablespoon chopped parsley

Quick Tips

Figs with Lemon: Drain the juice from a large (1-pound, 12-ounce) can of green figs into a saucepan; add ½ lemon, thinly sliced, and 2 or 3 whole cloves. Simmer 10 minutes or so; then pour back over figs in can. and half. Makes 6 servings.

French Toasted Cheese Sandwiches: Split French bread in half lengthwise. Toast in broiler; top with cheese slices; broil to melt cheese. Spread lightly with mustard, if desired. Cut into diagonal slices.

Chilled Boston Tomato Juice: Mix ¼ cup chilled clam juice into each ¾ cup chilled tomato juice. Season with a dash each of lemon juice, Worcestershire, salt, and pepper.

Fresh Pork Roast, Austrian Style: About 40 minutes before roast is done, spread with a mixture of 2 tablespoons poppy seeds, ½ cup marmalade, and ¼ cup orange juice. Baste once or twice with additional orange juice during remaining cooking time.

Here's Sauce For Special Menu Treat

Baked Chicken Breasts with Ham
Broccoli with Avanelle's Sauce
Green Salad
Hot Biscuits
Filbert Crescents
Beverage

AVANELLE'S SAUCE
1½ tablespoons lemon juice
3 egg yolks, well beaten
⅛ teaspoon salt and dash of cayenne
1 teaspoon minced onion
¼ teaspoon ground tarragon
1 teaspoon minced parsley
1 tablespoon tarragon vinegar

Into the top part of a small double boiler, put 1-3 of the butter; add lemon juice and egg yolks. Beating constantly with a wire whisk, cook over hot (not boiling) water until butter melts; add another 1-3 of the butter continuing to whisk constantly; as sauce thickens, whisk in the last 1-3 of the butter and continue cooking and whisking until thick. Remove from over water at once and stir in remaining ingredients. Serve at once. Enough sauce for 6 servings (2 pounds) cooked fresh broccoli.

CHIPS'N CHEESE
1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese
4 ounces Roquefort of Blue cheese
1 tablespoon Steak sauce
¾ cup mayonnaise

Mash cheese, mix with remaining ingredients to make smooth paste. Spread on potato chips, and garnish with sliced stuffed olives or 1-2 capers.

Covering Your Meat

When should you cover meat loosely? Or closely? Or, is there ever a difference? Yes! there is a difference.

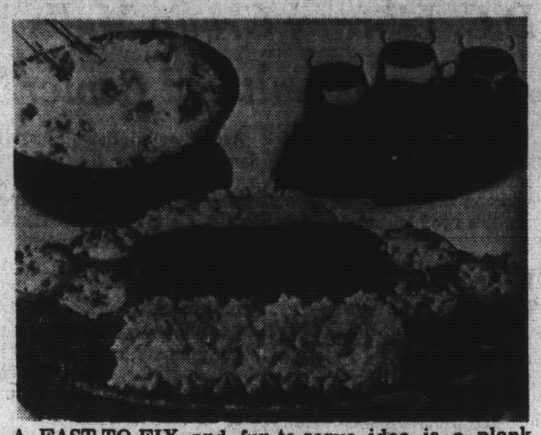
Iceberg Treats

Treat the family to a new type of snack: Cut western iceberg lettuce crosswise into slices, spread with softened cream cheese and mincemeat, and crest with maraschino cherries.



A FAST-TO-FIX and fun-to-serve idea is a plank steak platter, otherwise known as your meat loaf, Duchess potatoes, and cheery baked tomato halves served on a wooden platter.

High Speed Hot Dish That Pays Off

The evening meal is on a par with income tax: it's always due at an inconvenient time. Here you've barely kissed your kith and kin goodbye after breakfast, turned to tackle your day's tasks and before you know if the family is tramping through the front door again demanding dinner.

Don't panic, though. Low cost, high speed hot dishes will help see you through again and again Hearty, wholeseome menu mainstays such as stews, ragouts, and meat loafs are swift, simple and infinitely satisfying. What's more they have the happy faculty of looking after themselves once they're on the range or in the oven.

See if this recipe for Favorite Meat Loaf, nicely spiced with Worchestershire sauce, doesn't become your very favorite. Duchess potatoes are quite elegant, yet simple with a package of instant mashed potato granules and a pastry tube for a pretty, pipped border. Top off your plank with baked tomato halves garnished with a combination of yellow mustard, bread crumbs, and butter, and there you have it — a victory dinner and your family conquered. All recipes have been developed and tested in The R. T. French Company Test Kitchens.

FAVORITE MEAT LOAF
(For a Planked Meal)

1 tablespoon instant minced onion
1 tablespoon French's Worcestershire Sauce
1 teaspoon salt
2 eggs
½ cup fine dry bread crumbs
¼ green pepper, finely diced
1½ pounds ground beef
Duchess Potatoes, recipe below
Baked Tomatoes, recipe below.

Combine tomato juice, onion, Worcestershire sauce, salt, eggs, bread crumbs, green pepper, and ground beef in a large mixing bowl. Mix thoroughly. Spoon into greased 8½x4½-inch loaf pan. Score top of loaf and bake in 350 degree oven 1 hour.

For festive serving, arrange meat and vegetables on an ovenproof platter or hardwood plank. Brush top of plank with salad oil. Place hot meat loaf, scored side up, in center of plank. Spoon Duchess potatoes or use a decorating tube to shape a border on either side of loaf. Arrange tomato halves at ends of loaf. Brush tops of potatoes with melted butter; sprinkle with paprika. Brown under a broiler or bake in a 450 degree oven about 15 minutes or until tops of potatoes are lightly browned. 6 servings.

DUCHESS POTATOES

1¼ cups milk
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter
2 envelopes (each 4 serving) French's Instant Mashed Potato granules
2 egg yolks, slightly beaten

Measure water, milk, salt, and butter into a 2-quart saucepan. Heat just to boiling. Remove from heat. Stir with a fork while adding envelopes of potato granules. Whip briskly. Add egg yolks; whip to blend evenly. Use as directed above.

BAKED TOMATOES

1 tablespoon French's Prepared yellow Mustard
½ cup soft bread crumbs
1 tablespoon melted butter

Cut out stem ends of tomatoes, then halve crosswise. Spread cut surface with prepared mustard. Toss bread crumbs in melted butter. Spoon over top of tomatoes. Place on plank as directed above.

This Prune Almond Pie Is Unique

Roasted almonds provide a world of unique flavor in "Prune Almond Pie," a dessert to please the entire family. The dicing and roasting of the nuts is an easy matter. Simply dice whole natural almonds with a sharp knife to make half a cup, then mix them in a shallow pan with ½ teaspoon butter or oil and roast, stirring often, in a 300-degree oven about 15 minutes until golden brown. Or if your grocery store stocks roasted diced almonds in cans, just measure the proper amount from the container.

PRUNE ALMOND PIE

Unbaked 9-inch pastry shell
1 cup chopped prunes
¾ cup water
¼ cup brown sugar, packed
2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup dark corn syrup
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
½ teaspoon vanilla
2 eggs, lightly beaten

Sprinkle almonds into bottom of pastry shell. Combine prunes and water in saucepan; cover and simmer 10 minutes. Combine sugar, flour, cinnamon and salt; gradually stir into prunes. Stir in corn syrup, butter and vanilla, then gradually blend into eggs. Turn into pastry shell. Bake on low rack in 375-degree (moderately hot) oven 25 to 30 minutes or until crust is brown and filling is almost firm in center. Cool before cutting. Makes 8 servings.

Mushroom In Watercress

Cold Sliced Meat

WATERCRESS MUSHROOM-SALAD

1 bunch watercress
1 can or jar (about 6 ounces) sliced mushrooms, drained
Salad dressing (see below)

Cut heavy stems from watercress; wash watercress in cold water and thoroughly drain. Turn into a salad bowl with the drained mushrooms and about ¼ cup of the salad dressing; toss well adding salt and pepper to taste. Serve at once. Makes 6 servings.

Salad Dressing: Shake or beat together ¾ cup salad oil, one-third cup red wine vinegar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon seasoned salt, 1 teaspoon paprika, ⅛ teaspoon pepper; add, if you like, 1 teaspoon sugar. Tightly cover and refrigerate the dressing not used.

It Was Those Puffs of Smoke

Mrs. Nixon Young of 300 Westmoor Avenue in Daly City didn't like the idea of "little puffs of smoke coming out of the fireplace" last Tuesday morning when there wasn't a fire burning.

And because she didn't, she decided—on a hunch—to call the fire department instead of taking her granddaughter, Patricia Johnson, 12, to the dentist for an appointment.

They told Mrs. Young that in another two hours the studs would have been on fire and that her house might have gone up in flames. Mrs. Young said she had expected to be at the dentist's for more than two hours.

Firemen said that in addition to the studs, parts of an outside wall were also smoldering.

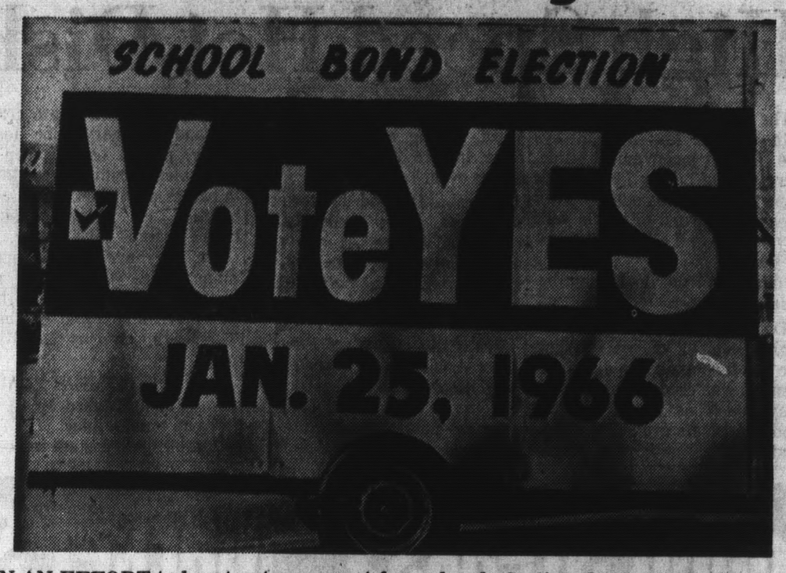
Mrs. Young said there had been a "big fire" going in the fireplace the night before.

A 'Yes' Vote Urged



IN AN EFFORT to boost voter support for a bond election January 25, the Jefferson Elementary and High School Districts have posted this billboard, mounted on a trailer, in a prominent position in the parking lot of the Westlake Shopping Center. Billboard can be seen by motorists on Alemany Boulevard and South Mayfair Avenue. Districts are asking approval for a total of $13.5 million in bonds. Proceeds would be used to build new classroom facilities.

D.C. Library Group Mulls A Campus Cultural Center

According to Head Librarian Samuel Chandler, the five-member commission is studying the matter and will present a report to the Daly City City Council when the study is completed.

The library commission cannot formulate city policy. Its function is to advise the city council. Only the council can make final decisions.

Members of the commission are: Mrs. Helen Staub, chairman; Mrs. Sarah Kelcheva; Mrs. Maude Hanselman, Mrs. U. R. Kendrie and Rabbi Herbert Morris.

The commission meets the second Wednesday of each month. February 9 is the next scheduled meeting.

Welding Leads To Eye Burns

George Volikilis, 43, of 43 Garden Grove Drive, Daly City, suffered minor burns to both eyes early last Wednesday morning while he was welding at his home.

He was treated at Mary's Help Hospital in Daly City and released. A hospital attendant said that Volikilis had reported that he didn't have a protective mask on at the time of the accident.

Funtime Circus Big Finocchio's Laugh Hit

RACK UP ANOTHER top different show for FINOCCHIO'S in San Francisco. It's called "Funtime Circus at Finocchio's" — and that"s what it is — funtime and a circus Everything from circus clowns, tight-wire walkers (without a wire) and bareback riders (without horses) are featured always most amusingly. Produced by WILLIAM C. GRAHAM and costumed lavishly by LIKAR, far-famed for the novelty of his creations. Starring honors go to FRANCIS BLAIR and JACKIE PHILLIPS as the leading clowns. Also outstanding are JUAN JOSE and CANDIDO in their circus sideshow exotic harem dancing. And instead of galloping circus horses, the three Finocchio singing stars — LaVERNE CUMMINGS, AL ST. CLAIRE and CARY DAVIS — are presented as dancing, prancing "ponies" in the old Ziegfeld style. Emcee HARVEY LEE as the ring-master is a study in classic liveliness, keeping this circus going with the speed of the real three-ring variety. As a tight-wire walker, REGGIE DAHL does his stint divertingly without aid of wire, but he gives the impression he feels high in the air. This JOE FINOCCHIO winter revue of 1966 is fully 99 percent novelty, the other one percent being plenty unusual, too. It's distinctly the kind of show people go from far and near to see what's fun at Finocchio's.

JAN STILL, dining room captain at Plateau 7, the elegant sky-high gourmet restaurant in San Jose is a Dutchman who arrived in the States from his native country, the Hague in Holland, in 1963. A graduate of Switzerland's famous Hotel and Restaurant School, Jan personally sees to it that everyone has food and service fit for a king . . . Comedian Dick Drake has joined the funfilled revue at Gomans' Gay 90's in San Francisco. . . . More honors for Danny's Cliff Chalet: Now listed along with the Cliff House (both overlooking Seal Rocks) in "Dining Around the World in San Francisco," — only two spots at Ocean Beach guidebook-recommended by the S.F. Convention and Visitors Bureau . . . Sheri Ashton, star of the "Topless Plus" revue at the Chi Chi on SF's Broadway, is a real outdoor girl—loves to swim, hike, ride horseback and sail . . . Taste Tip: Broiled Lobster Tail at Bob Whitacre's Mac's Tea Room in Los Altos. Here, you are served your own loaf of bread piping hot from the oven with every meal.

"VIBRANTLY ALIVE" best describes the exotic strip shows seen each evening at AL SWANSON'S OLD CHICAGO CLUB in Synnyvale. Managed by head-fizzer JIM COBB, the Old Chicago Club features a bevy of beautifully-undraped girls each evening, with the first show starting at 9:30 p.m. . . . DOROS has cuisine in the great tradition of San Francisco with classic dishes of France and Italy, and rarest wines . . . STARK NAKED and THE CAR THIEVES, musical sextet at the GALAXIE, were big clicks in Las Vegas before making their debut here. Their music is great, too, for the Galaxie Topless Swim Dancers . . . Visit the beautiful ROCCA'S restaurant and try their specialty, Breast of Capon. It's really delicious! . . . Seen dining at RUDOLFO'S Continental restaurant in Palo Alto, recently, were popular TV star Accordionist DICK CONTINO. ART, HARRY, GEORGE, RUDY and AL ALFINITO are the genial host-owners here . . . KAMMI FROM MIAMI and JAN STOREY have joined the topless show at the MOULIN ROUGE.

RANDY MOORE is the young pianist now playing nightly at Canlis' at the Fairmont. A native of Texas, Randy attended the University of Texas, the Conservatory of Music, Edinburgh, Scotland, and did graduate work in anthropology at the University of Chicago. Since 1960, he has been featured pianist at various clubs in San Diego, on Hollywood's Sunset Strip, and most recently at the San Ysidro Ranch in Montecito. Randy's hours at Canlis' are from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m. nightly, except Sundays, with Jim Rausey preceding him at the pianobar from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. . . . For gourmet dining in a truly elegant atmosphere, try Dan Biagi and Rene Canabou's Cote D'Azur in Atherton. A master chef who learned practically all there is to know in the culinary arts, Rene learned his trade as a young boy in France from his famous father, who also assists Rene in the kitchen at the Cote D'Azur. . . . W. P. Fuller Co. and Schlage Lock Co. were among the firms recently holding dinner parties in the private dining room at Lew Lehr's Marina steakhouse.

WHAT HO AND AWAY WE GO! THE GUST family, Lorraine and Nick, are again in construction action—with blue prints in progress for that long-promised Hi-Rise Apartment. Nick "rented" Yours Truly the penthouse, years ago. But if I had grown a beard while waiting to move in, by now your Bright Lighter would be the sharpest "beat" in North Beach. Any way, it's nice to know that this oceanside Hi-Rise will soon become a reality. Now for the entertainment "splash" at Nick's and the Turtle restaurant (located just across the street from Nick's): Seems a San Francisco newspaper ran an item that said the 3 Beats were leaving after many years of bandstanding at Nick's. Many phone calls from anxious customers were received asking if Nick would still feature dancing and Vocalist Mary Ann Hay. "Yes, indeed!" was his answer. The new attraction at Nick's is the Del Carlo Combo—a great musical combination who came direct from the Westward Ho Club in Phoenix. Leader Emil Del Carlo on the accordion; Robert Vetter, drums; Raymond Sells, sax, clarinet and flute; Richard Sneider, bass. Pete Rangaves' Group tends to the musical chores at the Turtle—and Peter needs no introduction when it comes to pleasing the dance and entertainment fun seekers.

George n' Teddy Big Hit — Hilton Inn

George n' Teddy and the Condors, who shook San Francisco to its rafters, a few years back, when they appeared at a night club in North Beach, are currently causing a wild sensation in the upstairs showroom of the Hilton Inn, San Francisco International Airport. It's hard to tell whether the crowd jams the Tiger-A-Go-Go to get an earful of George n' Teddy, or an eyeful of the 25 well-endowed Tiger Kittens. But in any case, it looks like Tiger-A-Go-Go Bossman Bill Gilbert can chalk himself up another winner.

The fame of Omar Khayyam's restaurant in San Francisco is far reaching. It pleases me to tell you that Mr. and Mrs. Jess Bidwell of Alhambra forsook the restaurants of the south for their fiftieth wedding anniversary dinner-party. Mr. Bidwell flew his party of 12 up from the southland for the celebration, which was cause for George Mardikian, the restaurant's world famed host-owner, to be on hand for the bread breaking ceremony to mark the happy occasion.

Del Vecchio's, popular Broadway restaurant - lounge, is top choice with many groups for luncheon or dinner meetings or banquets in their private dining rooms.

Coby Yee's all - new Oriental musical extravaganza at her Forbiddden City is one of the brightest and fastest-moving shows in San Franciwco. Featured are the Changs, a very exciting act, plus a bevy of beautiful and formful dolls.

"The Lively Ones," outstanding musical group currently appearing in the New Villa Lounge, are crowd pleasers with their entertainment and dance music, Tuesday through Sunday. The Villa Coffee House is open 24 hours a day. Free parking.

Phil Lehr's New Wellington Room Now Open

Monday marked the Grand Opening of Phil Lehr's elegant new Wellington Room at his downtown Steakery in San Francisco. Phil can be proud of his new room; it's like dining at an old San Francisco millionaire's mansion with its beautiful chandeliers, curtains, lamps and a winding staricase that descends into the room from the Carriage Entrance on Taylor and Ellis Streets. As we said last week, we think the Wellington Room will be acclaimed as one of the most unusual and beautiful dining rooms in the U.S.

Dine at the Jug of Wine at the Caravan Inn in Mountain View and you may be served by hands that served kings, dukes, prime ministers and theatrical stars. When genial waiter Jim Kilpatrick worked at the Dorchester Hotel in London, he served General Eisenhower, Queen Elizabeth, the Prince of Wales and Lady Astor. But he treates everybody royally at the Caravan Inn.

Lorenzo Pietrobon Hacienda Manager

Lorenzo Pietrobon, former maitre'd of the Cote D'Azur in Atherton, is now demonstrating his fine talents at the Hacienda Inn in Los Gatos in the capacity of general manager. Stop by the next time you're out that way and say hello.

A salute to the Burlingame La Touraine French restaurant for its rapid advance in the dine out field. Not so long ago this restaurant name was just another neon light on the horizon. Today, La Touraine is considered one of the leaders in French cuisine.

Barney's Early Bird Special Is a Winner

One of the most popular Greyhound Bus trips to Barney's Casino, Lake Tahoe, South Shore, is the "Early Bird Special" which leaves the San Francisco Greyhound Bus Depot at 6 a.m., and the Oakland Depot at 6:30 a.m. Which means you are back home at 10 p.m. the same evening, after trying your luck at Barney's for six hours. Folks have found they can win or lose just as much in six hours as they can in nine.

Now that Doctor William Ward has brought the harness Bay Meadows, Ron Giannotti's Surf House restaurant will be booming with many new out-of-town faces. Owners, trainers, an dfollowers of this popular sport make Ron's pop spot their before and after "Post time" haunt.

Scotty Campbell Pays Local Visit

Among the noted personalities to dine at Scotty Campbell's in Redwood City, lately, was Scotty Campbell himself. Scotty, who now makes his home in San Diego, stopped by to pay his respects to new owners Bud and Theresa Urban. He was so impressed with the changes that have taken place here since he left, that he wound up spending the whole evening.

Being located so close to Bay Meadows, the Gourmet Table will be doing a mighty hefty business for the next two months. This "All you can eat" luncheon and dinner set-up is the greatest—and the price is right.

Bertolucci's in South San Francisco is fast becoming known as the sports and entertainment crowds' favorite meeting and eating place. Ideally located for Peninsula and San Francisco patronage.

Nurses To Hear Downey

Vincent Downey, M.D., consultant in aerospace medicine for the Lockheed Missile and pace Company at Sunnyvale, will be the guest speaker tomorrow at a joint meeting of the El Camino Real Association of Industrial Nurses and the Peninsula Occupational Medical Society in the Holiday Inn, Sunnyvale.

Among the doctors and nurses from the two organizations are many members from the San Mateo area, actively engaged in industrial medicine in Peninsula industries.

San Carlos Chamber Launches Active Year

Before the new year was 80 hours old, the officers, directors and committee chairmen of the San Carlos Chamber of Commerce shifted into high gear for 1966 at a six-hour President's Conference at Peninsula Golf and Country Club on January 4.

"We now have an exceptionally active Chamber of Commerce, and a new vigor in our industrial and business community," Richard W. Wilson, outgoing president, told the conference.

"Prior to four years ago, our our Chamber of Commerce was anything but a successful venture," he added, "but during the last four years, and particularly the past two years, it is, perhaps, not surprising that our Chamber of Commerce and the San Carlos business and industrial growth have been conjointly and rather dramatically apparent."

"As I see it," he said, "we have a long way to go, but the important thing is, that we have come a long way on the backs of our limited manpower. In light of the Chamber of Commerce accomplishments, I am constrained to borrow from Winston Churchill and paraphrase, "Seldom in history, have so few done so little to achieve so much!"

In opening the meeting, the incoming president, William H. McDonald, outlined the purpose and intent of the conference as being to "take a hard look at our San Carlos Chamber of Commerce, go over our Chamber structure and organization chart review our objectives and our program of work and project planning."

"Our Chamber is comprised of a group of civic minded business and professional people who are willing and able to provide aggressive leadership which a growing community such as ours so desperately needs," he said.

"When the knowledge and energies of such a group are collectively in a dignified and organized manner, our Chamber will not only gain, but will hold, the respect of the entire community and its governing bodies."

Following the president's speech, an illustrated presentation of the purpose and structure of a Chamber of Commerce was given by Ervin H. Schultz, executive vice president of the Chamber.

"So — You're a Director," presented by H. J. "Bud" Johnson, outlined the duties and responsibilities of board members.

Henry Nissen, who served as chairman of the original "Program for Progress" committee in 1963, reviewed the extent to which that program has been carried out, and projects still remaining to be acted on.

A two-hour question and answer period followed the presentations, during which, the directors and committee chairmen discussed proposals for further increasing the effectiveness of the Chamber's operations during the coming year.

Target Shooting Ends in Accident

Richard Fenske, 19, of 212 Alta Loma Avenue shot himself in the right thigh with a .22-caliber rifle and was taken to Mary's Help Hospital in Daly City by police.

Bullets End Police Chase

Bullets brought an end to a wild chase through South San Francisco streets Saturday night, when police officers shot out two tires of a pickup truck which had roared through stop signs at speeds up to 70 miles an hour.

Joseph R. Flanagan, 45, an unemployed San Francisco bartender, was arrested as the driver. Charges were to have been specified Monday, after a review by the district attorney's office.

Before it ended, the chase involved five police cars and a motorcycle, and roared from near city hall clear across town to Mission Road near the North County Judicial District Court where Flanagan will be tried.

Officer Donald Osterman and Reserve Officer J. Bowes first saw the red 1951 pickup speed through a stop sign at Linden and Aspen.

The truck did not halt for red light and siren, they said, for several blocks. Then, near the police station, the truck halted and the officers approached. The truck sped away.

Officers Jules Kofoed and Stan Bennett closed in, attempting to force the truck to halt. Every time they would pull their patrol cars alongside. the speeding truck would swerve at them, and the officers kept back.

As the truck crossed Grand Avenue toward the courthouse, Officer Billy Peterson joined the chase. Sgt. Gus Nicolopoulos sped ahead, clearing the way with his red light and siren.

New Policy On Meetings Questioned

A special meeting of the San Mateo County Town Hall Association to discuss Jefferson High School District's new policy governing public discussion during board meetings, is being sought by member James Himmel of Millbrae.

In a letter to Town Hall President Richard Wilson of San Carlos, Himmel said:

"I move that a special meeting of Town Hall be called on the matter of the recent action of the Jefferson Union High School District Board of Trustees in establishing rules of procedure which sharply restrict the right of taxpayers and the general public to speak at and participate in board meetings.

"Members of said school board and citizens who may not approve of this action would be invited to attend this meeting and participate in a panel type of discussion for benefit of Town Hall members and taxpayers of San Mateo County.

"It may be premature to pass judgment on this action of a San Mateo County school board, however it certainly is appropriate to express grave concern regarding the trend toward big government in the management of purely local affairs.

"Local governmental bodies are being centralized through school unification and similar trends, and are becoming increasingly unresponsive to the wishes of those who put them ito office.

"Local government must respond to those whom they purport to represent.

"All governors must be reminded that they are servants of the people, rather than the masters of a populace."

The action Himmel objected to was a move by the Jefferson High School board to restrict discussion to items placed on the agenda by trustees, and to provide a controlled method of public expression.

"DENTAL HEALTH FACTS"

After eating food containing sugar or carbohydrates, acid begins forming in your mouth. You should brush your teeth within fifteen minutes after eating before the acid has a chance to damage the enamel.

Use a tooth brush with a small head. Take time: Give the toothpaste a chance to work.

Dr. Campbell tries to limit the practice to the making of dental plates, partial plates, removable bridges and extractions for same; however, he recommends that you see your dentist at least twice a year in order to help prolong the use of your natural teeth as even the beautiful modern dentures are not as efficient as healthy, natural teeth.
